LINER MONROE RAMMED SINKS WITH 49 PERSONS

Old Dominion Line Vessel Is Struck
Amidships by the Nantucket and Nearly Cut in Twain by the Force of the Collision.

VICTIMS THROWN INTO ICY WATERS IN NIGHT ROBES

Nantucket Boats Succeeded in Rescuing 85 persons Who Were Not Drawn Into the Vortex Made by Sinking Vessel—Heavy Fog Responsible for Accident.

NANTUCKET DOCKS

By Associated Press

Norfolk, Va., January 30.—Bulletin.—The steamer Nantucket arrived at her dock at 1:30 p. m.

By Associated Press.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 30.—49 souls were lost in the icy waters of the Atlantic at 2 o'clock this morning when the Old Dominion liner Monroe was rammed amidship, practically cut in two, and sunk within ten minutes, 25 miles south of Hog Island, by the Merchants & Miners liner Nantucket.

The 49 lost comprised 25 passengers and 24 members of the crew, according to official wireless reports to the Old Dominion Line here. 30 passengers and 55 of the crew were saved, making the list of the rescued 85. Captain Johnson of the sunken Monroe and all his officers but one were among the saved.

The 85 survivors taken from the sea, huddled on the Nantucket which is limping along with a crumpled bow, toward Norfolk today, are the only ones who know all the story of how the two big ships, picking their way through a blanket of fog, one bound north and the other south, met with a crash near the Winter Quarter Shoal Lightship. S. O. S. calls reaching out to the coast stations started every available agency of rescue into action, but not soon enough.

While the Nantucket backed off, lowered boats and began sweeping the misty sea with her searchlights, the Monroe, her passengers pitched out of their berths in night clothes, sank like a plummet. In the whirling vortex of the sinking ship, men shouted and women screamed through the mist.

The Monroe went down so quickly that there was little time for launching boats, and it is believed that the only ones saved were those picked up at once by the Nantucket. The lost had scarcely a chance to realize that death was upon them before they were struggling in the sea.

The doomed passengers of the Monroe, fast asleep in their cabins when the two ships came together, were drowned with only time for a shriek of despair.

The Merchant & Miners tug Apollo left Norfolk shortly before noon to meet the steamer Nantucket, bringing in the Monroe's rescued. Aboard the Apollo were doctors to attend to the survivors. At noon the Nantucket under convoy of the steamer Hamilton passed Fortress Monroe inward bound.

CALL FOR ROBES

By Associated Press.

Baltimore, January 30.—The commander of the Nantucket sent a request by wireless for clothing for 50 men and 12 women.

TWO MORE DEAD

By Associated Press.

Norfolk, Va., January 30.—Bearing 85 survivors of the Old Dominion liner Monroe, and the death tale of 49 more, the N. & M. liner came into port here late today. The 85 survivors brought a story of suffering and sudden death from the sea. With a heavy canvass covering her crumpled bow and with practically a shifted cargo causing a list to the starboard, the Nantucket docked while several thousand people waited for the survivors. Many of the rescued stood upon the deck wrapped in blankets. The body of Lt. Curtis was identified by a handkerchief found in the pocket of his pajama coat. Mrs. Thomas Harrington and Lt. Curtis both died after being taken from the water. Thomas Harrington of Bridgeport, Conn., husband of the dead woman, told a thrilling story of the wreck. Harrington and his wife were long in the water and the man was swimming with his wife's hair between his teeth when the two were picked up. Mrs. Harrington died from exhaustion on board the Nantucket. Representatives of the press were barred from the Nantucket when she landed.

PROBE ORDERED

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., January 30.—A thorough investigation of the causes and circumstances resulting in the collision between the M. & M. liner Nantucket and the Old Dominion liner Monroe, with its death list of 49, was ordered today by the Department of Commerce. Assistant Secretary Sweet instructed the steamboat inspection service to make an exhaustive inquiry.

PEOPLE SHALL PICK SENATORS

By Associated Press.

Columbus, Ohio, January 30.—The Snyder (of Hamilton County) House bill providing for the election of U. S. Senators by direct vote of the people was passed unanimously by the Senate today and will become a law when the governor has signed it. Another measure passed by the Senate was the Snyder (Pickaway county) House bill, strengthening the perjury laws in connection with nominating I. & R. petitions. Also the Clark House bill, providing for removal of notaries who make affidavits without administering the oath properly, and the Lloyd Senate bill, providing for uniform inspection of High schools.

COURT DECREES SALE OF WABASH

By Associated Press.

St. Louis, Mo., January 30.—Bulletin.—The sale of the Wabash R. R. by foreclosure was authorized today by Judge Adams, U. S. Circuit court. Judge Adams directed that no bids for the property lower than thirty-four million dollars be accepted, and that the sale be made without appraisal. Charles H. Crum, of St. Louis, was appointed special master to execute the sale.

CLARK THINKS HE WILL BE NEXT

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 30.—Speaker Champ Clark in a speech at the Merchants and Manufacturers' association banquet showed that he has not yet forgotten the defeat which he sustained at the hands of his own party at the Democratic national convention in Baltimore. He intimated that he would be the next president of the United States and he predicted that Senator Borah of Idaho would be the nominee of the Republican party in 1916 and his opponent in the general election.

11-MINUTE SESSION

By Associated Press.

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 30.—The Lower House of the Legislature held an eleven minute session this morning after which they adjourned until five o'clock Monday afternoon.

SAFE BLOWN

By Associated Press.

Toledo, Ohio, Jan. 30.—At Anstead's Commission House, cracksmen blew the office safe early this morning with nitro-glycerine. The explosion wrecked the safe and blew out the front of the building. The robbers escaped with $250.

AUTO FEES FOR ROADS

By Associated Press.

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 30.—The Senate today passed the Warnes Automobile Fee Law which provides that all the fees from automobile licenses go to the State Highway Department. The bill now goes to the Governor for his signature.

LOST HIS NERVE

By Associated Press.

New York City, January 30.—Anglo Sylvestro, the young bomb thrower, reputed leader of a black-hand gang, that terrorized the east side, lost all his bravado today and persuaded the court to postpone his sentence until he could see the District Attorney. The judge deferred sentence until February 16.

CITY'S NEW DESKS READY FOR USE

The two large golden oak desks recently ordered by Mayor Coffey for use in the mayor's office, council chambers, and for city officials in general, were placed in the office Friday morning, and are much more convenient than the desks previously used, and which have become black with age.

WHITACRE HAS BEE IN BONNET

Canton, O., Jan. 30.—Congressman J. J. Whitacre has determined to become a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. He made announcement to that effect when he arrived here from Washington.

"I have said all along that I would be candidate against Cox if no other suitable person was found to face the fight, but it appears that most of the Democrats are afraid of the Cox machine. I have thought the matter over carefully and have at last decided I will make the race myself."

STATE AGREES TO PAY PRICE

By Associated Press.

Columbus, Ohio, January 30.—It was finally determined by the State Prison Site Commission today that the new penitentiary shall be located near London on a tract of land containing 1448½ acres and which cost the state $250,245.

ON THE MARCH

By Associated Press.

Juarez, Mexico, January 30.—Movements of the Rebels toward Torreon began on a large scale today. General Villa, as military commander-in-chief directed the disposition of the troops with the intention of himself joining and personally conducting the attack. It is likely that the attack on Saltillo will precede that on Torreon and that the engagement at Torreon will follow after several days of vigorous skirmishing. In all events, Villa proposes to put practically his entire army against the Federals.

FRENCH WRITER PASSES AWAY

Nice, France, Jan. 30.—Paul Deroulede, the French patriotic writer and politician, died here today aged 68 years. He was noted throughout his life for his partiotic verse in the columns of the newspapers and his writings have led him to many duels. Captured when the French army surrendered at Sedan, he was taken to Germany a prisoner, but succeeded in escaping.

MAKING ROOM FOR NEW UNION FREIGHT DEPOT

Fayette Lumber Company Begins at Once to Make Great Changes Which Will Furnish Room For New Freight Depot.

PAPERS ALL SIGNED IN LAND EXCHANGE

Railroad Officials Expect To Begin Work on New Building in Short Time and Have Two Sets of Plans, One of Which Calls for Depot Between Main and Fayette Streets—Paving of Streets May Follow Construction of Depot.

All papers in connection with the exchange of land between the Pennsylvania and C. H. & D. railroads in this city, so that the B. & O. and C. H. & D. can erect a new freight depot, were signed up Thursday, and the work of making some radical changes in the neighborhood where the depot is to be erected, will start immediately.

As a result of the exchange, the C. H. & D. is now the owner of a strip of ground 100 feet wide, extending from Hinde street to Sycamore street, and the Pennsylvania takes over the C. H. & D. ground between Fayette and Sycamore, and a strip near the old C. H. & D. depot west of Fayette.

It has not been fully decided as yet whether the new depot will be erected between Main and Fayette, or Main and Hinde streets, but the company is inclined to favor the site between Main and Fayette, owing to the fact that an outlet on both streets would be obtained, affording an easier means of reaching the station.

As the company's plans call for considerable paving about the station, it is possible that the streets abutting the depot will be paved from the station to the paved streets up town.

Lumber Yard Changes. Beginning immediately the Fayette Lumber Company will make some radical changes and vast improvements in the lumber yards between Main and Fayette streets, and when completed the yards will hardly resemble those of the present.

The old lumber sheds of the company are to be torn out and the yard shaped to conform with the plans for the new depot. A space 100 feet in width will be left south of the yards, and a frontage of 140 feet on Fayette street will be occupied by the company's offices and the end of the new lumber shed.

Mr. Slagle has plans under way for the sheltering of two to three millions of feet of lumber.

The present office building on Fayette street will be enlarged, and the wholesale business of the firm will be conducted at that point. The entire Main street side of the building will be remodeled, and machinery added to handle all planing work of the company. The machinery will be run by individual motors, and fire dangers brought down to the minimum. Other facilities for handling yard, contract and farm business will be added.

Mr. W. C. Slagle will be general manager of the concern, and Jasper Blackmore assistant manager.

Mr. Slagle hopes to have the changes completed within the next month or two, and hopes at the end of that time to have one of the most modern lumber yards in Ohio.

Early work on the new depot and track changes is anticipated by officials of the railroad. Plans call for two new tracks across Main and Fayette streets, and the depot is to be used by both the B. & O. and C. H. & D. roads.

RATIFY TREATIES WITH 25 NATIONS

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., January 30.—The Senate Foreign Relations committee today voted to recommend immediate ratification of general arbitration treaties with Great Britain, Japan and other nations, 25 treaties in all.

These have been pending since last summer, when their original five year limitation expired.

SAYS GOMPERS HAD HOT TIME

By Associated Press.

Indianapolis, Ind., January 30.—That Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor was "gloriously drunk" at the Seattle convention of the Federation, was the charge made by Duncan McDonald, of Illinois, at the convention of the United Mine Workers, of America today. During the prolonged cheers, the epithets "nar!" "slanderer!" were hurled at McDonald by Gompers who sat on the platform.

"I am glad Mr. Gompers is here, so I can say what I want to," said McDonald, in beginning his reply to the speech made yesterday by Mr. Gompers. "I said there were booze-fighters in charge of the American Federation of Labor, and I can prove it. At the Seattle convention I had a room with my wife, at a hotel next to the room reserved by the resolutions committee. The first Saturday night we could not sleep for the noise made by a bunch of drunks in the next room. The noise grew fiercer and finally I knocked on the door of the room and was asked to come in and have a drink. When the door was opened, there sat Sam Gompers at the head of the table gloriously drunk, with a bottle of booze in his hand."

Mr. Gompers denied that he maintained a machine to keep himself in office as charged by McDonald and as an illustration said he had had two offers of positions from the governor of a great state, one paying $8000 a year and the other $10,000, but had refused both to continue in the labor movement. "The labor movement is a part of my life and I am going to stick to it. You may drive me out of office, but you can't drive me out of the movement."

FIFTY MORE CONVERSIONS IN EVANGELISTIC CAMPAIGN

Interest Still Increases and Splendid Meetings Are Held at Each of the Various Churches—Noontday Meeting at Theater Establishes New Record.

(By Hugh C. Weir.)

There was a very large and enthusiastic audience at the Baptist church again last night. A feature of the inspiring music was a duet by Rev. A. W. West, and Mrs. Birch. Mr. Brandt preached on the subject of "The Responsibility for Neglecting So Great a Salvation". The subject for this evening will be "The Conversion and Baptism of the Ethiopian Eunuch".

AT THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH. A large audience heard Dr. J. W. Day, of the First Presbyterian Church of Columbus, deliver a forceful sermon on "The Fatality of Indecision" at the Presbyterian church here last night. Dr. Day gave a stirring appeal, that made a deep impression. Rev. Wm. Houston, pastor of the Ohio State University, will give a special sermon to young people at the Presbyterian church this evening.

AT THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH. Evangelist J. J. Tisdall who is also pastor of the Wilson Avenue Church of Columbus, Ohio, was the speaker at the Christian church last night.

SOLLARS WRITES AN OPEN LETTER

Bayou Meto, Ark., Jan. 28, 1914.
Editor Daily Herald,

Washington C. H., Ohio.

Dear Sir:—A few lines from the South may be of interest to old friends and acquaintances in the old Ohio home. This is my second trip to this country. The contrast is great between conditions now and four years ago. I speak of the progress made in that time. More land has been fenced and put in cultivation; more people are here and more of everything connected with affairs of man.

From what I can see this was a good country for the man who was satisfied to grow stock on the open range in the past, but now, with rice-growing in the lead as a money crop I can see an appreciable growth all over this section. While rice is in the lead, one can find farms here that grow corn, cotton, oats, potatoes and most anything wanted.

This Arkansas country is mostly level prairie, but there are bunches of timber in easy reach of every farm and plenty of timber in the bottom lands along the streams. As I see it, a man would have to look a long time to find a better, all-purpose country. Rice growing is in its infancy here, but it has attracted people from all parts of the middle west and other southern states, with no end yet in sight. Lands are very cheap here, when price and crop returns are compared with the more thickly settled states. One needs to

STATE BANKS ARE SHUT OUT

Can Not Act As Executors In Bill Passed By House.

MOONEY MEASURE ACCEPTED

Requires All State Officers, Boards and Institutions to Make Weekly Deposits of Receipts in State Treasury—Senate Passes Three Administration School Reform Measures. Other Assembly Proceedings.

Columbus, O., Jan. 30.—By a vote of 84 to 11, the house of representatives passed the Guthery bill permitting state banks to become members of the federal reserve system. There was eliminated from the bill its authorization to all banks in Ohio to act as executors, trustees and registrars of bonds. The net result of this action is that if the bill should be passed by the senate in the shape it leaves the house, such state banks as are not trust companies could not act as executors, but trust companies and national banks could.

Heretofore national banks have been barred from acting as executors because they were not so chartered. Under the currency act national banks may so act if not in contravention of state law, and there is no contravening law. Under state law trust companies may so act.

The bill as it went to the house gave express permission to all banks in Ohio, including national banks, so to act. Representatives of the state banks who were on the ground watching the bill got into a dispute which was reported to the house by Chairman Kennedy of the banking committee and Representative Terrell of Cleveland, who offered an amendment. The result was the elimination of the general permission and the exclusion of state banks unless they are also trust companies, from the lucrative business of handling estates and trust funds.

Mooney Measure Passed.

The Mooney bill, replica of the famous stolen bill of last winter, requiring all state officers, boards and institutions to make weekly deposits of receipts in the state treasury, was passed, without any penalty. The senate authorized the state auditor to hold up the salary of any officer who failed to comply. Some penalty will be provided if the bill goes to conference. The house put in permission to college boards to hold enough of tuition funds for refund to students leaving college before the end of the term.

Almost without debate, the house passed the Morris bill, simplifying the system of teachers' certificates. It provides for one and three-year county and city elementary, high and special certificates, provisional four-year state elementary, state high and special certificates, life elementary, life high, life special and life common school certificates. Two, five and eight-year certificates are not to be issued, but five and eight-year certificates now held are renewable. The Detrick bill, regulating the training of teachers, was reported to the calendar. The Ruhlman bill, for state aid to weak districts, was passed. Aid is to be extended to districts which use three-fourths of their school levy for salaries, but can not pay the minimum monthly salaries, which were fixed at $40 for primary teachers, $50 for elementary teachers and $60 for high school teachers.

King Proposal Ruled Out.

Speaker Swain ruled out as not germane the King resolution requesting the governor to permit amending out of the election laws the arbitrary powers of the secretary of state. He held it was inadmissible for the legislature to seek to instruct the executive department.

Speaker Swain announced the official plan was to finish the work of the extra session by next Wednesday night, then to recess and to reconvene one day the following week for a single closing session.

School measures were passed by the senate as follows: The Hudson bill, providing for the standardization of rural schools; the Cahill bill, providing for compulsory teaching of agriculture in rural schools and optional with city schools; the Friebohn bill, providing for the use of school property and other public property for social purposes and the levying of two-tenths of a mill for such purpose, also for the submission of school propositions enacted by the board of education to referendum.

PRICE HELD EXCESSIVE.

Columbus, O., Jan. 30. — Governor Cox and the penitentiary commissioners today are deliberating whether to accept or turn down the proposition to buy 1,140 acres of the John Ellsworth farm in Madison county, near London, for the building site of the new penitentiary. Madison county juries valued the property at $246,235, if the state decides to condemn the land. They also added $4,105 damages to the residue of the farm not taken over by the pen commission, bringing the total figure above the $250,000 appropriation allowed by the legislature last winter. Samuel Black, secretary of the pen commission, says the state considers the valuation excessive, and before accepting would probably look around further in the hope of getting some other site just as suitable at a lower price.

CORRECTS ERROR IN GRAFT PROBE

New York, Jan. 30.—James C. Stewart told District Attorney Whitman that it was James E. Gaffney who had asked him for $150,000 while the canal board was considering Stewart's bids on barge canal contracts. He also told him that he went twice to Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany leader, to protest against the request of Gaffney. On the first visit he told Mr. Murphy about the visit of Gaffney and that he would expose the whole business unless he was called off. On his second visit to the Tammany chieftain he was denied permission to see him.

Mr. Stewart spent two hours with the district attorney. He was accompanied by his brother, Alexander Stewart, and by A. C. Vandiver, the law partner of George Gordon Battle and Senator James A. O'Gorman. Mr. Stewart told the district attorney that he had been in error when he said he did not know James E. Gaffney and that he would go before the grand jury and correct the error.

MINER RETAINS SIGHT AND JOB State Also Benefits by Activities of Blind Commission.

The work of the Ohio Commission for the Blind is not confined to saving the eyesight of children, by any means. Here is a case in point to show that the work is carried on without respect to age or condition:

In an humble home on a hillside in a mining district of the great Hocking Valley coal field, where the leading medical authority is a peasant midwife, an old man was reluctantly giving up his lifelong work in the mines because he could no longer see to avoid coal pits.

He couldn't recall just how long his eyesight had been failing, but he said "It was long ago, and came slowly." The word cataract was a new one to him. He had never heard of such a thing, but because he knew other old men who had lost their vision in their old age, he thought it was usual, as a matter of course. He counted his working days, and thought his lot was to spend his old days in some county poorhouse in total darkness.

One of the visiting nurses for the Ohio Commission for the Blind found this man and his lovable wife, the family of several children having long since left the home. They were trying in their simple faith to adjust themselves to the new and what seemed certain calamity.

When the nurse for the Ohio Commission for the Blind found them, she only hinted of hope, but persuaded the old gentleman to go with her to a specialist in a nearby city. The examination showed that with a certain operation the vision of the old miner could be saved. He was compelled to remain in the hospital for several weeks, as the operation—not a dangerous one—required time to heal. Now this miner is back at work with sufficient sight to enable him to work some years longer.

Motives for Attending Church

The third week of the Evangelistic Campaign is drawing to a close and that it has stirred up widely extended interest and brought fresh vigor to religious activity is freely admitted.

As the heart requires a certain amount of stimulating fluid to continue action, so the soul is dependent for spiritual uplift upon the nourishment provided.

During the past few weeks this spiritual nourishment has been provided in full measure, pressed down and running over, and has given a momentum to the higher life which will carry the spirit of the campaign far into the coming months and years.

Not alone have church members been greatly benefited; many not accustomed to church attendance have been influenced by the Christ spirit that has been the theme of discourse and song, and are acquiring the habit of church going that cannot but prove helpful and uplifting.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch enters into the very heart of the subject of church attendance in answer to the question, "Why I Attend Church," and gives seven motives so beautifully expressed that they are worthy to be widely quoted:

"I go to church because I find there that peace which De Quincey described as a resting from human labors, a Sabbath of repose, a respite granted from the secret burdens of the heart, as if I stood at a distance and aloof from the uproar of life; as if the tumult and fever of strife were suspended; as if there brooded over me a dovelike and halcyon calm.

"I go to church because I love the music that I hear there, the mighty roll of the great organ, mingled with the marvelous symphonies of that divine stringed instrument, the human voice, untwisting all the chains that tie the hidden soul of harmony.

"I go to church because 'the way is dark and I am far from home,' and because the church is the polar star to light my pathway in the rayless night.

"I go to church because the church ministers not only to spiritual, but also to the material needs of life and because it is there that the charities that sooth and heal and bless are scattered at the feet of man like flowers.

"I go to church because in that atmosphere vice and crime wither and die.

"I go to church because I hear the teachings of the philosophy of Jesus, the incomparable man; and if you say His teaching is philosophy and not religion and that He was a man and not a god, then the philosophy of that man has redeemed the world from savagery.

"I go to church because there I find consolation and hope; because I see there the dawn and not the sunset, and it is better for man, if the hope is baseless and the vision but an elusive phantom, to cherish a dream so glorious and beautiful than to be weighted down and crushed with the quarried mountains of the world without hope and without God."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Yearly Increase of Fifty Per Cent In Shipbuilding In United States

By Secretary of Commerce WILLIAM C. REDFIELD

READ somewhere recently that our shipyards are not teeming with orders for new vessels to use the canal, yet they have been and are so teeming. The report of the bureau of navigation shows that the total documented merchant shipping of the United States on June 30, 1913, comprised 27,070 vessels of 7,886,518 gross tons.

THIS IS THE LARGEST TONNAGE IN OUR HISTORY AND, EXCEPTING THE BRITISH EMPIRE, EXCEEDS THAT OF ANY OTHER TWO NATIONS COMBINED. OF THE TOTAL TONNAGE, ONE MILLION TWENTY-SEVEN THOUSAND SEVEN HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-SIX GROSS TONS WERE REGISTERED, SHOWING THE LARGEST AMERICAN TONNAGE FOR FOREIGN TRADE IN TWENTY-SEVEN YEARS.

Even more auspicious is the fact that more than half of the year's increase was in tonnage for the foreign trade. Shipbuilding, too, prospered during the fiscal year, the output of our yards reaching 346,155 gross tons, AN INCREASE OF FIFTY PER CENT over the previous twelve months. Under the Panama canal act of Aug. 24, 1912, the privilege of American registry is free to foreign built ships not over five years old.

THE APPREHENSION SO LONG FELT OR SIMULATED THAT FREE REGISTRY FOR THE FOREIGN TRADE WOULD INJURE DOMESTIC INDUSTRY HAS BEEN DISPELLED, AS AFTER TEN MONTHS' EXPERIENCE UNDER FREE REGISTRY WE ARE BETTER OFF THAN BEFORE THE LAW WAS ENACTED AND FACE A FUTURE OF ABUNDANT PROMISE. THE DIFFERENCE IN THE COST OF BUILDING VESSELS FOR FOREIGN TRADE OF THE UNITED STATES AND ABROAD HAS BEEN LARGELY ELIMINATED, AND IN CONSEQUENCE WE ARE A LONG STEP NEARER A NORMAL SHARE IN THE WORLD'S OCEAN CARRYING TRADE.

Poetry For Today

IF IT COULD BE TRUE.

"If every wish were granted,
If every hope came true,
If every seed we planted
A lovely blossom grew,
If every day was sunny
And every one were wise,
There'd be no sweet in honey
There'd be no joy to prize.

"If we knew that tomorrow
Would be just today,
With not one touch of sorrow,
No care to spoil our play,
No doubt and no misgiving,
No heartaches and no fears,
Then vain were all our living
We'd crave the joys of tears

"We'd sigh for sacred sorrow
We'd long to feel the rain,
And we should yearn to borrow
The blessedness of pain,
For more than all the pleasure
That came and quickly fled
Adown the years we treasure
The tears that we have shed."
—Selected.

VALUABLE DRUG

Berlin, Jan. 30.—Ocean voyages no longer need to be a terror to those subject to seasickness, in effect the announcement made by Joseph Fischer, the well-known heart specialist of Mannheim. Dr. Fischer reports that as the result of extensive experiments with seasick passengers he found that an injection of atropine completely cured the worst cases. Dr. Fischer says atropine is not harmful and leaves no ill effects.

ETERNAL SLEEP

Chardon, O., Jan. 30.—Climbing upon a stove and reaching to a shelf, Caryl Sterling Short, 20-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Short of Newbury, drank part of the contents of a bottle of laudanum. The child complained of feeling drowsy and Mrs. Short rocked it to sleep, which brought death, the mother being unaware of what the child had done.

HAVE COLOR IN YOUR CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets.

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

If you want a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must get at the cause. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects. They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

CLAIMS OFFICIALS ARE NOT DRINKERS

Indianapolis, Ind. Jan. 30.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, defended that organization and its executive council in a speech before the convention of the United Mine Workers of America against charges made by Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners; Duncan McDonald of Illinois and others in the convention.

Mr. Moyer had charged that if the copper strike in Michigan should be lost it would be due to the inactivity of the executive board of the American Federation of Labor.

Mr. Gompers declared it would be impossible to levy an assessment for the copper mine strikers of Michigan and denied that the organization is "reactionary, fossilized, worm-eaten and dead," and that the executive council is made up of "booze fighters."

WILMINGTON MEN HURT IN WRECK

Dayton, O., Jan. 30.—Ex-Congressman C. Q. Hildebrandt of Wilmington, O.; Charles Thomas, Leo Weltz, clerk of the Clinton county courts, and A. W. Doan, deputy probate judge of the same county, were knocked unconscious when they were hurled from Thomas' automobile, near Alpha, Greene county. Doan's jaw was fractured.

TRACTION SOLD

Columbus, O., Jan. 30.—The Columbus, Urbana & Western Traction railway property was sold by Emery W. Lattanner, state superintendent of banks, to J. T. Adams and G. W. Meeker of Columbus for $38,000. The sum of $1,000 cash was paid following the confirmation of the sale by Judge Kinkead, and $37,000 is to be paid by Feb. 14. Mr. Adams and Mr. Meeker represent local capital, it is said.

DYNAMITER GUILTY

New York, Jan. 30.—Sylvestro, the Sicilian, was convicted in four minutes of attempting to dynamite a tenement house occupied by 25 families. He will be sentenced to imprisonment for three and a half to seven years, but a bill will be introduced in the legislature next Monday making such crimes punishable by 40 years' imprisonment. The brevity of the jury's deliberations broke all records for important criminal trials.

MOVIES ADVANCE

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 30.—A move to advance prices of moving picture shows was seen in a resolution adopted by the Ohio Motion Picture Exhibitors' league, which declared that the consensus of opinion is that two reels should be shown for 5 cents and four reels should be shown for 10 cents. M. A. Neff of this city was re-elected president, and Cleveland selected as next convention city.

HERRICK A VICTIM

Cleveland, O., Jan. 30.—That Governor Herrick was knifed at the polls by Republicans because he started to put an end to grafting in the state treasury, and if the party had followed his lead in this reform the Republicans still would be entrenched in the statehouse, was asserted by Attorney Edward C. Turner of Columbus, who was one of the speakers at the McKinley anniversary banquet of the Tippecanoe club. Mr. Turner said it was Governor Herrick who put through the first state depository law.

PITNER HAS ANOTHER DREAM NOW SAYS NAME IS SEIFERT

H. Petham, alias H. Pittmand, alias Harry Pitner, the "man of mystery", is now confined in the county jail at Xenia, where he says his name is William H. Seifert, and that his home is in Columbus. He further says he has a brother, an undertaker, who resides in Columbus.

The man, following his hearing before the mayor of Jamestown, was bound over to the probate court of Greene county, and later escorted to the county jail.

He now states that he owns a fourth interest in a 140 acres farm in Madison county, and that his present trouble is the result of a protracted spree, and he is very anxious to get out of jail and also to square himself for the crime committed.

He has talked freely since his incarceration in the Greene county jail, but his story is entirely different from that told while imprisoned in the local jail.

His case is now attracting quite a little attention in Greene county. So far he has given four different names, and has told stories that vary greatly.

He still has a great many persons "guessing" as to who he is and what he is, and has proven himself the possessor of a very vivid imagination.

YEGGS TRY TO CRACK SAFE AT WONDER PLANT

Sometime during the night—supposedly before the 10:50 o'clock train went to Columbus, yeggs tried to force the big safe in the office of the Wonder Manufacturing Company's plant in the northern part of the city, but were either frightened away or voluntarily gave up the attempt.

The would-be robbers entered the plant by forcing a rear window, and then forcing doors and windows in the various rooms until they reached the office, where they cut through the door and unfastened the night-lock, after which they attacked the safe with a sledge hammer, but did not seriously damage it.

A quantity of liquid, supposed to be nitro-glycerine, had been dropped on the floor at the bottom of the safe door, and there was evidence that an effort had been made to pour the liquid in the small aperture between the door and side of the safe, but it was apparent that no attempt had been made to explode the nitro-glycerine.

Chief Moore examined the premises very closely, Friday morning, and made inquiry in the neighborhood. One woman stated that two strange men had been hanging about the place Thursday evening, and that one of them had asked her what time the next train left for Columbus.

The work was evidently not that of local talent, as the safe has not been in use for some time, other than to hold the company's books, and there was not a dollar in it.

BOUQUET HANDED TO HON. C. A. REID

Words of Praise Given in Unique Manner by Cleveland Newspaper Which "Accuses" Fayette's Representative of Being Shrewdest Member of Legislature.

Fayette county's brilliant representative, Hon. C. A. Reid is characterized by the Cleveland News of Thursday, as ringmaster and star performer of the State Legislature, in a spicy little write-up, accompanied by an excellent picture of Mr. Reid.

The news says:

"This will introduce you to the ringmaster of the Ohio Legislative circus, now putting on an indoor performance in the state house, Representative Chas. A. Reid, of Washington C. H.

When Reid isn't up here making laws, he's down in Fayette county defending those who break them. He stands mighty high in his profession, but he missed his calling. He ought to have joined a circus.

The Republican floor leader's position in the House corresponds to that of the man with the high hat in the ring who cracks his whip and snaps his fingers in giving orders to performers on the sawdust trail.

Reid makes the Democrats jump through his hoop every day. Both his political friends and enemies acknowledge that he is about the shrewdest man in the legislature, and he's always on the job to see that Speaker Swain hews to the line on parliamentary law. Reid served as prosecutor of his own county and this is his second term in the House."

MIDNIGHT BLAZE ON RAWLINGS STREET

At midnight Thursday night the fire department was summoned to an old frame house on East Rawlings street, east of Delaware street, occupied by Richard Halbrook.

The house was doomed before the department arrived, and the work of preventing the flames from spreading was taken up by the firemen, with the result that no further damage resulted than the small house.

The flames from the burning building lighted the heavens to such an extent that many persons believed a much larger building was on fire.

How the fire started is not known.

LIBRARY BOARD ELECTS NEW LIBRARIAN

The Board of Trustees of the Public Library held a called meeting Thursday night, to elect a librarian to succeed Miss Bess Kerr, whose resignation takes effect Saturday, February the 7th.

Miss Elizabeth Johnson, the assistant librarian, was unanimously elected to the position. Miss Johnson is an exceptionally bright young woman, who has shown decided ability in the work of the library and it is expected will fill the position acceptably. She has had three years' experience as assistant librarian.

The board has not yet selected an assistant librarian, but expects to do so in the near future.

The new members of the board, Messrs. H. D. Chaffin and Earl Barnett, were sworn in, as was also Miss Gertrude Gardner, re-appointed for a term of four years.

INJURED WOMAN OUT ONCE MORE

After several days in the Fayette Hospital, Mrs. Eliza Cockerill, who, in company with Mr. J. E. Todhunter nearly met death at the C. The young man drew $50 and the costs for selling booze to Wilson.

BISHOP WALDEN DIES IN FLORIDA

Bishop John M. Walden, of Cincinnati, who has been critically ill at Daytona, Fla., died Wednesday night, January 21st. He had reached the advanced age of 83 years and was one of the oldest active bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Bishop Walden had made Episcopal visits to every state and to the Methodist missions of Europe, Asia, South America and Mexico.

At one time, shortly after leaving college, Bishop Walden was a skeptic in religious matters, but was later converted to the Christian religion in Cincinnati.

DENY MYSTERY IN PRELATE'S DEATH

Vatican Says Cardinal's Body Will Not Be Exhumed.

JEWEL CASE RECOVERED.

Unofficial Investigation Started by Police to Discover Why Physician's Warning of Serious Illness of Cardinal Was Not Heeded by His Personal Servant.

Rome.—Rumors that the authorities had ordered the exhumation of the body of Cardinal Rampolla on the discovery of suspicious circumstances regarding his last illness were set at rest by the emphatic declaration of the Vatican that nothing of the kind was thought of and the assertion of the police that an exhumation was unlikely unless suspicions of poisoning were corroborated by sufficient evidence.

The rumor was started by the newspaper Messagero, which announced that the search for the cardinal's last will, which is believed to have been stolen, had revealed that his death was not due to natural causes. The cardinal's valet added to the mystery by saying that the physician who was called on the morning of Dec. 17, the day on which Cardinal Rampolla died, warned him seven hours before his death of the serious nature of the illness, but the valet neglected to inform the Vatican or the family of the cardinal.

This physician, who was called again later, but did not arrive before the death of the cardinal, certified that death was due to natural causes and that an autopsy was unnecessary. The organs of the body were examined before it was embalmed. The Vatican insists that the cause of death has been established beyond all doubt.

An unofficial investigation was started by the police to discover why the physician's warning was not heeded by the servant of the cardinal.

Meanwhile a box found in the cardinal's apartments and which was supposed to be the ebony box in which his last will was placed has been identified as a jewel case. Princess Altieri, wife of the Duke of Campobello, son of a sister of the late cardinal, said she would start no proceedings in the matter until the duke's mother, who, she insists, was not on speaking terms with Cardinal Rampolla, attempts to enter into possession of his estate, which is valued at $100,000.

CARDINAL RAMPOLLA.
Cardinal Rampolla's birth certificate and other documents necessary to probate the will of 1889, in which the Duke of Campobello, who was later disinherited by his uncle, and the cardinal's sister are beneficiaries, have been produced in court. Princess Altieri contends that Cardinal Rampolla told her on several occasions that in his later will he had provided for her two children, of whom she has been the legal guardian since her separation from the Duke of Campobello on account of the dissolute habits of the latter.

ABSTRACT OF REAL PROPERTY READY

Eminent Task Just Finished by Auditor Henkle Places Fayette Among Foremost Counties in State to Compile Abstract for New District Assessor— Realty Valuation Totals $28,486,750.

Auditor Henkle has just finished 8 weeks of strenuous work in the preparation of an abstract of all the realty in Washington and Fayette counties, to be turned over to District Assessor J. C. Dunn.

The abstract, which shows the valuation of the realty of the county, with the name of owner, amount of each of the 9000 or more pieces of realty, was compiled as required by the new statutes so that it would be ready for the district assessor by the first Monday in February, and Mr. Henkle is one of the few county auditors in the state who has finished the big task, and as a result of his work, District Assessor Dunn has been able to make marked progress in the affairs of his office, so that Fayette county is in the front rank with the other counties where the work of both officials is advanced.

In compiling the abstract it was necessary to search the records covering a period of four years, going through 3800 transfers, and bringing the abstract up to date in detail.

The abstract shows Fayette county realty has a valuation of $28,486,750, and if some $9,500,000 in personal property is added to the realty value, the total for Fayette is $37,986,750, which represents the total tax duplicate of the county.

The following abstract shows the realty valuation by districts:

DEATH CLAIMS

DR. LEWIS Y. GRUBBS

The death of Dr. Lewis Y. Grubbs, a member of one of the pioneer Washington families and a relative of the Saxton family, occurred in Topeka, Kan., on Monday, the 26th of January.

He was born in this city on December 27, 1841, where he received his early education. Before he was 21 years of age he enlisted in Company C, One-hundred-fourteenth Ohio infantry, and served throughout the Civil war.

After the war Dr. Grubbs studied medicine under Dr. H. C. Coffman.

On February 19, 1873, Dr. Grubbs was married to Miss Rebecca Jane Wiley. To this union were born two sons, Clyde Murray Grubbs and Loehr M. Grubbs, who survive him.

WORKING WAY ACROSS CONTINENT

J. C. Randolph, an ambitious young fellow from Pittsburg is stopping in Washington over night, while working his way across the continent for a prize given by the Publicity committee of the Panama Exposition.

The terms under which Mr. Randolph is trying for the $5,000 prize is that he visits large cities designated by the committee and receives a letter from the mayor of each city to the mayor of San Francisco. He started from Pittsburg on the 22nd and has received a letter from the mayor of each city he has visited enroute. A letter will be given him by Mayor Coffey of this city before he leaves Saturday for Cincinnati.

The young man works his way through by singing Harold Rossiter songs in picture shows or theaters.

Tonight he will sing at the Colonial theater.

GROUND HOG DAY

Next Monday is ground hog day and it is hoped he will see his shadow. Mr. Hog might have stayed out all season for as yet there has been no weather worth calling winter.

HOW THE HOG CHOLERA IS BEING ELIMINATED

United States Department of Agriculture Contributes Interesting Article on the Success of War Being Waged Against Swine Plague in Various States of the Union. Methods Used Similar to Those Now Being Employed in This County.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture, during the past year, has been conducting campaigns in Indiana, Missouri, Iowa and Nebraska to control the contagious disease of hogs known as "hog cholera" by means of anti-hog-cholera serum and farm quarantines. In one county (Pettis Co., Missouri), where there was a loss of 18 per cent in 1911 and 25.5 per cent in 1912 of all hogs raised, there was only a loss of 14.7 per cent up to November 1913. This decrease was due to use of serum, which, although not used there by the Department's agents until August, 1913, materially reduced the loss. About 10,000 hogs were raised during the past year and of the 10,000 that died of the hog cholera only about 1000 were lost after active use of serum and quarantine measures were inaugurated.

Of hogs actually sick when treated, the Department's inspectors lost but 25 per cent during the past summer. Of well hogs in diseased herds, 2.8 per cent died after being treated and of hogs in exposed herds less than 1 per cent died after being inoculated with the serum. In an infected herd there is always a certain proportion of hogs that are well.

The object of the Department has been to endeavor to control the disease and if possible, to eliminate it from the country. To secure this end the best efforts of the farmer himself are necessary. The campaign against this devastating sickness during 1913 was planned in the territory selected along three lines.

1. The education and organization of the farmers in the districts selected, to be carried out primarily by the State College.
2. The enforcement of sanitation and restrictive regulations by the state veterinarian.
3. Active supervision by the Bureau of Animal Industry of the Department and the inoculation of diseased herds and exposed herds with the anti-hog-cholera serum.

When an outbreak of hog cholera was reported the Department's inspector went to that outbreak and saved all the hogs he could by treatment with serum. As the disease is very easily transmitted, he then protected all herds in the immediate vicinity by inoculation. The idea was to form a zone of immune animals around the infected center.

Hog cholera is caused by a germ that exists in the blood. It is an organism apparently so small that the most powerful microscopes do not show it. However, it is easy to demonstrate its presence by inoculating a small part of the blood from a sick hog into a well one, which produces the hog cholera.

Hog cholera is a disease which seems to be stopped to a degree by the frosts of winter, although frost cannot be said to stop a case after it has taken hold of its victim. However, it seems to prevent the rapid spread of the disease. The result is that in a spring time the affection as a rule at the lowest ebb but increases rapidly from that time until fall.

Hog cholera does not seem to affect any particular breed of hogs more than another, and while generally the careless farmer is more apt to have the disease among his hogs than the careful one, the disease sometimes occurs where the conditions are sanitary. It is hoped that the work may be extended gradually until the disease is completely controlled or eliminated. The fact that hog cholera is carried not only by the hogs themselves, but by birds, dogs, streams and even on the feet of men going from one farm to another shows how necessary it is that the campaign be thorough and that farmers exert their best efforts to assist in the work.

QUO VADIS

"Quo Vadis," George Kleine's magnificent production of the masterly Clines photo drama which crowded the Astor Theater in New York City and broke records at Philadelphia, Chicago and Boston continues to do so in all other cities where it is being presented. It is a glowing tribute to the finest achievement the world has yet known in the field of photo drama and serves to illustrate the marvelous hold this form of entertainment has on the public and the enormous possibilities for future development.

That tremendous soul of magnetism with which the brilliant Sienkiewicz invested his novel is retained in the photo drama reproduction and the audience is almost as much swayed by the camera effect as by the words of the novelist. The arrangement of the picture is perfect, relating the story in sequential detail, and, by the use of the slightest imagination, the auditor has no difficulty in following and understanding it. The pursuit of Lygia by the young patrician Vinicius is so thoroughly human it has a strong appeal to everybody and when his earthly passion is glorified through his conversion, the young man has everybody's sympathy in his trials. It is the immense human interest of the photo drama that has as much as anything to do with its success. The spectacular features are wonderful, the burning of Rome, the pageantry of the court of Nero, the games in the Arena and the devouring of the Christians by the lions all have their thrills, but to young and old it is the big love story that lingers longest in the memory.

Mr. George Kleine's production of "Quo Vadis" will be the attraction at the Palace theater for two days commencing February 5 with matinees each day.

SAGE PREDICTS END OF WARFARE

New York, Jan. 30.—The annual meeting of the New York Peace society, held at Hotel Astor, heard a new note of optimism for universal peace from Andrew Carnegie, its president, and the Rev. Father Michael Clune of Syracuse, who made an address on "The Passing of War."

"The world is growing greater," said Mr. Carnegie. "There is not a ruler of civilized nations on the earth today who will not say that the greatest crime on earth is man killing his fellow man. The enormous amount of money lost through war you all know. These great expenditures for arms can not last. I expect to see the practical end of war."

Mr. Carnegie was re-elected president of the society.

Referring to the coming attack on Torreon, he said: "We will probably have a harder fight than we have yet had, but it will end as have the others, in victory for the Constitutionalist army. No, I do not know what direction the campaign will take after the fall of Torreon. There is a possibility that the capture of Torreon will end the civil war, for popular opinion may thrust Huerta from Mexico City and the presidential chair he claims to occupy."

WICKERSHAM SEES DEADLY ESPIONAGE

New York, Jan. 30.—George W. Wickersham, ex-attorney general, attacks the trade commission bill, now before the senate committee on interstate commerce. He says that it is not founded on the constitution. President Wilson has said that the purpose of the trade commission is to "smell around all the time in search of rats." Mr. Wickersham asserts that the bill would establish an unprecedented system of espionage upon all corporate business.

ITALIAN BUNKOED

Youngstown, O., Jan. 30.—Tony Tifalco and Valto Trallo, Italians, were arrested here charged with obtaining $1,000 from Tony Marino of Warren. Marino says he was met by four men in Warren, one of whom was seeking an Italian priest to give him $3,500 for missions. Marino was asked to carry the money to the priest, and put up $1,000 of his own, drawn from a bank, as security. The $3,500 was placed supposedly in a box, which was given to Marino. When he opened it later there were only newspapers in it.

FAVORS PRESENT PROGRAM

Sharp Discussion of the Japanese Immigration Problem Likely to Be Precipitated in the House When the Immigration Bills Are Reported. Western Representatives Lining Up For the Raker Bill.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Relations between the United States and Japan were brought into prominence by further developments in Washington. These developments served to strengthen the conviction that the administration regards the present state of Japanese relations as delicate.

Discussions at the White House indicated that the United States will continue to stand firm on its original conditions in regard to the California alien land law controversy, and is unlikely to make any material concessions to Japan in the discussion now in progress looking toward some sort of an adjustment of that dispute.

On the other hand, events in the house committee on immigration showed that the administration is determined that there shall be no legislation upsetting the present arrangement with Japan for the restricting of Japanese immigration.

It was disclosed that the administration leaders in congress will oppose the demands of western members for a drastic law excluding Japanese laborers, and will support instead the Burnett measure, which leaves undisturbed the present arrangement. Ambassador Chinda already had informed the state department that his government would greatly regret any other course.

There is every indication that there will be precipitated in the house a sharp discussion of the Japanese relations in general and Japanese immigration in particular, which is likely to prove embarrassing to the administration. The Pacific coast representatives, particularly the Californians, both Republicans and Democrats, intend to demand drastic legislation, such as is provided in the bill drawn by Representative Raker. These members say they believe they will be successful in the fight they intend to make for a bill that will meet with the approval of the people on the Pacific slope.

RICH MAN MISSING AND FATE PUZZLING

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 30.—Was F. Lewis Clark, Spokane multi-millionaire, who so mysteriously disappeared from Santa Barbara on the night of Jan 17 murdered or is he being held captive in Los Angeles by a gang of blackmailers? This is the question that is puzzling both local and federal authorities throughout the country. His wife and relatives believe he is being held captive for ransom.

A letter has been received by local police purporting to have come from a gang of blackmailers, and demanding a ransom of $75,000 for the return of the millionaire. Federal authorities have begun an investigation in an effort to trace the identity of the person who wrote the letter to the local police.

CREATE RURAL CREDIT BANKS

Bill For Establishment of Farm Land Banks Launched.

BACKED BY ADMINISTRATION

Proposed Institutions Prohibited Under the Measure From Engaging In a General Banking Business—Loan- ing Power Restricted to Fifteen Times the Capital and Surplus of the Bank.

Washington, Jan. 30. — There was introduced in congress a bill providing for the establishment of a national farm land bank system. This measure is tentatively the administration bill for the establishment of a national rural credit system. It represents the result of the labors of a United States commission appointed by President Wilson last April to investigate the rural credit system in European countries and report thereon.

The bill in the form introduced has not the unqualified indorsement of the house banking and currency committee. It represents in the main the views of the committee, but so far as the general principles expressed are concerned it has the approbation of President Wilson.

President Wilson has been positive upon one point in regard to a rural credit system for the United States. He is opposed to any scheme by which the United States government should become directly the creditor of the farmer. This view is in entire accord with the views of the majority members of the house committee on banking and currency.

The bill as introduced provides for the creation, operation and supervision of a national farm land bank system through which the farm land banks to be established under the terms of the act or to be created through the federalization of existing state farm mortgage concerns and farmers' banks shall become the new rural credit system of the United States.

Banks under the new law are prohibited from engaging in general banking business. They may not loan on the stock or bonds of fellow bankers in the system. Their loaning power is restricted to 15 times their own capital and surplus.

CRITICISM WITHHELD.

LITTLE STORIES ABOUT OHIO

By CHARLES E. CHIDESTER

MAN AND HER LAST BULLET SAVES THREE LIVES. The marksmanship of a woman with her last charge of powder and ball in 1799 saved herself and three children from starvation in Ashtabula county.

Finding the supply of provisions exhausted, Joel Thorp, started from where Millford now stands for the nearest settlement in Pennsylvania, miles away, leaving his wife, Sarah, his eight year old son, and two smaller children at home in the wilderness.

Twenty-four hours after his departure the hunger began to sink its fangs into the little flock. Unable to satisfy the craving in any other manner, the mother dug roots and made a weak form of soup. The youngsters pleaded for food promising to be satisfied with the smallest possible morsel.

When three days had passed and all sources of food were exhausted, Mrs. Thorp chanced to see flying by the door a wild turkey. Snatching up her husband's rifle, she proceeded to load it to find that but one charge of powder and one bullet remained. Realizing the extremity of the situation and that missing aim meant death, she carefully cleaned and loaded the weapon.

Noiselessly creeping on hands and knees to near where the fowl was eating, she took aim, but in her excitement accidentally frightened it and it flew off a short distance. Waiting until it was again wallowing in the dust, she stole up on it and hiding behind a log, drew careful aim.

The hammer fell, the pan flashed, the gun roared. Peering through the smoke Mrs. Thorpe saw the feet of the bird kicking in the air. Singling with joy, she sprang forward and caught up the bird. It meant life and the silencing of those pitiful wails for food that at the very moment issued from the cabin.

No Conqueror ever took home the spoils of war any more proudly than did Mrs. Thorp the turkey. The carcass was cut into equal portions sufficient to feed the family three days. Just as the last ration was being consumed Thorp returned with supplies.

INTERESTING FIGURES ARE GIVEN BY TIMBER DEALERS

Appraisal of Timber on Lands Condemned For Penitentiary Site Introduced in Court Proceedings This Week—Frank Flee of This City Estimates Total Amount of Timber at 2,245,400 Feet.

The evidence submitted in the condemnation proceedings in the case of Ohio against John Ellsworth wherein the value of the new penitentiary site is being established in Madison county courts, is attracting statewide attention.

Among the well known timber dealers who assisted in the appraisal of the timber on the lands, was Mr. Frank Flee, of this city, and his estimate was 2,245,400 feet of timber, valued at $33,185.10.

The testimony given by Mr. Flee and others is included in the following excerpts from the Madison County Democrat's report of the proceedings:

Frank Flee, Manufacturer.
Mr. Flee, Washington C. H. manufacturer of hardwood lumber, has been in the business twenty years. Employed five days at the beginning of the year in estimating the timber on the Ellsworth land. He went to each tree and estimated its number of feet.

He reports that of burr oak there are 1,126,100 feet; white oak 857,000 feet; red oak, 34,000; walnut, 16,800; ash, 6,300; hickory, 28,700; elm, 30,000; cherry, 2,000 and also small tie timber, making a grand total of 2,245,400 feet of the value of $33,185.10 as it stands on the stump.

There is sufficient timber to justify putting in a saw mill, but its condition is very common; worms prevent its being used for finishing purposes.

J. W. Calland, Forester.
Mr. Calland is assistant forester at the State Experiment Station at Wooster, Ohio, and took the forestry course at the O. S. U. Made an estimate of the timber on the Ellsworth land. As the burr oak and white oak predominated, witness placed all the trees in these two classes for estimating purposes with the following result: The burr oak class, 1,063,000 feet; the white oak class, 898,000 feet, or a total of 1,961,000 feet.

Wm. Buller, Timber Buyer.
Mr. Buller estimates and buys timber for the Dodson Lumber Co., of Columbus; got his experience in cutting timber; has been at it for 28 years.

Commencing January 1, 1914, he put in 4 1/2 days estimating the timber, by the tree on the 1448.50 acres of the Ellsworth farm. He estimates a total of 2,006,100 feet, including 10,000 feet of small tie timber, worth $28,303.65. Much of the timber is defective, being hollow at the stump and top.

A. E. Taylor, Forester.
Mr. Taylor took a four-year forestry course at the O. S. U. and is assistant forester at the Wooster Experiment Station. He estimates the burr oak class of trees on the Ellsworth land at 946,000 feet, and the white oak class at 889,000 feet, or a total of 1,835,000 feet. This includes all kinds of trees on the place.

Mr. Taylor has been in the employ of the government, in his capacity of forester, in California, and was engaged on the Ellsworth tract for four days. He estimated each tree separately.

Peter Dorn, Banker, Says:
Peter Dorn, president of the Sedalia Bank, has lived in Madison county for 31 years, and has divided his 1022 acres of land among his children. He testifies that the Ellsworth land as a whole, including the timber, is worth $225 per acre. Separated from the balance, the land south of the railroad is worth $50 per acre less than that amount.

WANTS GOOD NAVAL PATROL

Frenchman Who Has Amazed World by His Daring Is Modest Young Fellow—"Some Day You Will Die," His Retort to Suggestion of Peril—Wants to Be First to Fly Across Ocean.

Paris.—Adolphe Pegoud, the topsy-turvy aviator, intends, if he manages to keep alive, to give exhibitions of upside down flying in New York at the conclusion of his present tour.

Before going to Vienna M. Pegoud gave an interview in which he not only stated his purpose of going to America, but also expressed his willingness to attempt a flight across the Atlantic, provided a proper naval patrol was guaranteed.

M. Pegoud is small and dapper, with brilliant eyes, scintillating good humor. He cultivates a dark mustache, a la kaiser. He is a great joker, even on the subject of his own thrilling performances. While he cannot be called a man without nerves, he undoubtedly does not know the meaning of danger.

His attitude concerning his upside-down feats is not stagey, nor that of an acrobat seeking adulation. He said at the beginning of the interview:

"I am very proud to be the first man to accomplish this feat, but other men can do it as easily as I. After I got the idea I worked out the possibilities on paper and studied the entire problem thoroughly. I kept at Bleriot to allow me to attempt it merely to prove the possibility of the safety of his make of aeroplane.

"You ask whether I would attempt a transatlantic flight. I have not studied the question sufficiently to make a complete answer concerning the possibility of success, but I think that such a flight will be accomplished in the near future. Certainly it will be the greatest feat in aviation. I hope to be among the first to attempt it, even though I do not succeed.

"Persons talk about the foolhardiness of my upside down flights. If I thought them foolhardy I would not do them. That is why I say I would attempt a transatlantic flight now only with a guarantee of proper naval patrol, because I am sane enough to desire to try it again if I fail the first time.

"From a superficial study of the situation I believe that the flight might now be attempted across the shortest route, from the west coast of Ireland to Newfoundland.

"A waterplane of sufficient size, an extraordinarily powerful motor and wireless equipment could today negotiate a large part of the trip without descending for gasoline. Given fair weather the craft could rest on the waves until help arrived. With the wireless it could keep its whereabouts known. It would be necessary to fly much faster than the fastest petrol boats.

"As transatlantic liners would probably be expensive and impracticable, I believe that torpedo boats and destroyers would be the best craft obtainable. If any government wished to test the possibility sufficiently to have a convoy of such craft, starting a couple of days before the flight and spreading themselves across the ocean, I think it would not be long before the greatest prize of the air would be won."

Over 3,000 Candy Makers

Are turning out Ohio candy, in one hundred and fourteen candy factories of the state. And candy making is by no means a leading industry of Ohio. Do you know what the biggest factories of the state ARE making, and how many men it takes to keep them going? How many proprietors, how many clerks, and how many wage earners? It is interesting to read about, and it might be pretty useful, too. You must do business, directly or indirectly, with some of those factories, and their industry concerns you.

Our OHIO ALMANAC, just issued for 1914, tells you all about the manufacturing business of Ohio, the business of farming, the schools, the religious organizations, the population, the platforms of the various political parties, the officials of the state and the counties, and about 100,000 other interesting facts about your state. Useful bits of information they are, too, that would cost you hundreds of dollars in time and cash to find out for yourself if we had not gathered it all together for you.

And we sell it to you for 25c at our office, or 30c by mail, postpaid.

LINER MONROE RAMMED SINKS WITH 49 PERSONS

Old Dominion Line Vessel Is Struck Amidships by the Nantucket and Nearly Cut in Two by the Force of the Collision.

VICTIMS THROWN INTO ICY WATERS IN NIGHT ROBES

Nantucket Boats Succeeded in Rescuing 85 persons Who Were Not Drawn Into the Vortex Made by Sinking Vessel—Heavy Fog Responsible for Accident.

NANTUCKET DOCKS

Norfolk, Va., January 30.—Bulletin.—The steamer Nantucket arrived at her dock at 1:30 p. m.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 30.—49 souls were lost in the icy waters of the Atlantic at 2 o'clock this morning when the Old Dominion liner Monroe was rammed amidship, practically cut in two, and sunk within ten minutes, 25 miles south of Hog Island, by the Merchants & Miners liner Nantucket.

The 49 lost comprised 25 passengers and 24 members of the crew, according to official wireless reports to the Old Dominion Line here. 30 passengers and 55 of the crew were saved, making the list of the rescued 85. Captain Johnson of the sunken Monroe and all his officers but one were among the saved.

The 85 survivors taken from the sea, huddled on the Nantucket which is limping along with a crumpled bow, toward Norfolk today, are the only ones who know all the story of how the two big ships, picking their way through a blanket of fog, one bound north and the other south, met with a crash near the Winter Quarter Shoal Lightship. S. O. S. calls reaching out to the coast stations started every available agency of rescue into action, but not soon enough.

While the Nantucket backed off, lowered boats and began sweeping the misty sea with her searchlights, the Monroe, her passengers pitched out of their berths in night clothes, sank like a plummet. In the whirling vortex of the sinking ship, men shouted and women screamed through the mist.

The Monroe went down so quickly that there was little time for launching boats, and it is believed that the only ones saved were those picked up at once by the Nantucket. The lost had scarcely a chance to realize that death was upon them before they were struggling in the sea.

The doomed passengers of the Monroe, fast asleep in their cabins when the two ships came together, were drowned with only time for a shriek of despair.

The Merchant & Miners tug Apollo left Norfolk shortly before noon to meet the steamer Nantucket, bringing in the Monroe's rescued. Aboard the Apollo were doctors to attend to the survivors. At noon the Nantucket under convoy of the steamer Hamilton passed Fortress Monroe inward bound.

CALL FOR ROBES

By Associated Press.

Baltimore, January 30.—The commander of the Nantucket sent a request by wireless for clothing for 50 men and 12 women.

TWO MORE DEAD

By Associated Press.

Norfolk, Va., January 30.—Bearing 85 survivors of the Old Dominion liner Monroe, and the death toll of 49 more, the N. & M. liner came into port here late today. The 85 survivors brought a story of suffering and sudden death from the sea. With a heavy canvass covering her crumpled bow and with practically a shifted cargo causing a list to the starboard, the Nantucket docked while several thousand people waited for the survivors. Many of the rescued stood upon the deck wrapped in blankets. The body of Lt. Curtis was identified by a handkerchief found in the pocket of his pajama coat. Mrs. Thomas Harrington and Lt. Curtis both died after being taken from the water. Thomas Harrington of Bridgeport, Conn., husband of the dead woman, told a thrilling story of the wreck. Harrington and his wife were long in the water and the man was swimming with his wife's hair between his teeth when the two were picked up. Mrs. Harrington died from exhaustion on board the Nantucket. Representatives of the press were barred from the Nantucket when she landed.

PROBE ORDERED

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., January 30.—A thorough investigation of the causes and circumstances resulting in the collision between the M. & M. liner Nantucket and the Old Dominion liner Monroe, with its death list of 49, was ordered today by the Department of Commerce. Assistant Secretary Sweet instructed the steamboat inspection service to make an exhaustive inquiry.

ON THE MARCH

By Associated Press.

Juarez, Mexico, January 30.—Movements of the Rebels toward Torreon began on a large scale today. General Villa, as military commander-in-chief directed the disposition of the troops with the intention of himself joining and personally conducting the attack. It is likely that the attack on Saltillo will precede that on Torreon and that the engagement at Torreon will follow after several days of vigorous skirmishing. In all events, Villa proposes to put practically his entire army against the Federals.

Nice, France, Jan. 30.—Paul De-roulede, the French patriotic writer and politician, died here today aged 68 years. He was noted throughout his life for his patriotic verse in the columns of the newspapers and his writings have led him to many duels.

Captured when the French army surrendered at Sedan, he was taken to Germany a prisoner, but succeeded in escaping.

MAKING ROOM FOR NEW UNION FREIGHT DEPOT

Fayette Lumber Company Begins at Once to Make Great Changes Which Will Furnish Room For New Freight Depot.

PAPERS ALL SIGNED IN LAND EXCHANGE

Railroad Officials Expect To Begin Work on New Building in Short Time and Have Two Sets of Plans, One of Which Calls for Depot Between Main and Fayette Streets—Paving of Streets May Follow Construction of Depot.

All papers in connection with the exchange of land between the Pennsylvania and C. H. & D. railroads in this city, so that the B. & O. and C. H. & D. can erect a new freight depot, were signed up Thursday, and the work of making some radical changes in the neighborhood where the depot is to be erected, will start immediately.

As a result of the exchange, the C. H. & D. is now the owner of a strip of ground 100 feet wide, extending from Hinde street to Sycamore street, and the Pennsylvania takes over the C. H. & D. ground between Fayette and Sycamore, and a strip near the old C. H. & D. depot west of Fayette.

It has not been fully decided as yet whether the new depot will be erected between Main and Fayette, or Main and Hinde streets, but the company is inclined to favor the site between Main and Fayette, owing to the fact that an outlet on both streets would be obtained, affording an easier means of reaching the station.

As the company's plans call for considerable paving about the station, it is possible that the streets abutting the depot will be paved from the station to the paved streets up town.

Lumber Yard Changes.
Beginning immediately the Fayette Lumber Company will make some radical changes and vast improvements in the lumber yards between Main and Fayette streets, and when completed the yards will hardly resemble those of the present.

The old lumber sheds of the company are to be torn out and the yard shaped to conform with the plans for the new depot. A space 100 feet in width will be left south of the yards, and a frontage of 140 feet on Fayette street will be occupied by the company's offices and the end of the new lumber shed.

Mr. Slagle has plans under way for the sheltering of two to three millions of feet of lumber.

The present office building on Fayette street will be enlarged, and the wholesale business of the firm will be conducted at that point. The entire Main street side of the building will be remodeled, and machinery added to handle all planing work of the company. The machinery will be run by individual motors, and fire dangers brought down to the minimum. Other facilities for handling yard, contract and farm business will be added.

Mr. W. C. Slagle will be general manager of the concern, and Jasper Blackmore assistant manager.

Mr. Slagle hopes to have the changes completed within the next month or two, and hopes at the end of that time to have one of the most modern lumber yards in Ohio.

Early work on the new depot and track changes is anticipated by officials of the railroad. Plans call for two new tracks across Main and Fayette streets, and the depot is to be used by both the B. & O. and C. H. & D. roads.

RATIFY TREATIES WITH 25 NATIONS

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., January 30.—The Senate Foreign Relations committee today voted to recommend immediate ratification of general arbitration treaties with Great Britain, Japan and other nations, 25 treaties in all.

These have been pending since last summer, when their original five year limitation expired.

SAYS GOMPERS HAD HOT TIME

By Associated Press.

Indianapolis, Ind., January 30.—That Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor was "gloriously drunk" at the Seattle convention of the Federation, was the charge made by Duncan McDonald, of Illinois, at the convention of the United Mine Workers, of America today. During the prolonged cheers, the epithets "nar!" "slanderer!" were hurled at McDonald by Gompers who sat on the platform.

"I am glad Mr. Gompers is here so I can say what I want to," said McDonald, in beginning his reply to the speech made yesterday by Mr. Gompers. "I said there were booze-fighters in charge of the American Federation of Labor, and I can prove it. At the Seattle convention I had a room with my wife, at a hotel next to the room reserved by the resolutions committee. The first Saturday night we could not sleep for the noise made by a bunch of drunks in the next room. The noise grew fiercer and finally I knocked on the door of the room and was asked to come in and have a drink. When the door was opened, there sat Sam Gompers at the head of the table gloriously drunk, with a bottle of booze in his hand."

Mr. Gompers denied that he maintained a machine to keep himself in office as charged by McDonald and as an illustration said he had had two offers of positions from the governor of a great state, one paying $8000 a year and the other $10,000, but had refused both to continue in the labor movement. "The labor movement is a part of my life and I am going to stick to it. You may drive me out of office, but you can't drive me out of the movement."

PEOPLE SHALL PICK SENATORS

By Associated Press.

Columbus, Ohio, January 30.—The Snyder (of Hamilton County) House bill providing for the election of U. S. Senators by direct vote of the people was passed unanimously by the Senate today and will become a law when the governor has signed it. Another measure passed by the Senate was the Snyder (Pickaway county) House bill, strengthening the perjury laws in connection with nominating I. & R. petitions. Also the Clark House bill, providing for removal of notaries who make affidavits without administering the oath properly, and the Lloyd Senate bill, providing for uniform inspection of High schools.

COURT DECREES SALE OF WABASH

By Associated Press.

St. Louis, Mo., January 30.—Bulletin.—The sale of the Wabash R. R. at foreclosure was authorized today by Judge Adams, U. S. Circuit court. Judge Adams directed that no bids for the property lower than thirty-four million dollars be accepted, and that the sale be made without appraisal. Charles H. Crum, of St. Louis, was appointed special master to execute the sale.

CLARK THINKS HE WILL BE NEXT

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 30.—Speaker Champ Clark in a speech at the Merchants and Manufacturers' association banquet showed that he has not yet forgotten the defeat which he sustained at the hands of his own party at the Democratic national convention in Baltimore. He intimated that he would be the next president of the United States and he predicted that Senator Borah of Idaho would be the nominee of the Republican party in 1916 and his opponent in the general election.

AUTO FEES FOR ROADS

By Associated Press.

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 30.—The Senate today passed the Warnes Automobile Fee Law which provides that all the fees from automobile licenses go to the State Highway Department. The bill now goes to the Governor for his signature.

LOST HIS NERVE

By Associated Press.

New York City, January 30.—Anglo Sylvestro, the young bomb thrower, reputed leader of a black-hand gang, that terrorized the east side, lost all his bravado today and persuaded the court to postpone his sentence until he could see the District Attorney. The judge deferred sentence until February 16.

CITY'S NEW DESKS READY FOR USE

The two large golden oak desks recently ordered by Mayor Coffey for use in the mayor's office, council chambers, and for city officials in general, were placed in the office Friday morning, and are much more convenient than the desks previously used, and which have become black with age.

FIFTY MORE CONVERSIONS IN EVANGELISTIC CAMPAIGN

Interest Still Increases and Splendid Meetings Are Held at Each of the Various Churches—Noonday Meeting at Theater Establishes New Record.

(By Hugh C. Weir.)

There was a very large and enthusiastic audience at the Baptist church again last night. A feature of the inspiring music was a duet by Rev. A. W. West, and Mrs. Birch. Mr. Brandt preached on the subject of "The Responsibility for Neglecting So Great a Salvation". The subject for this evening will be "The Conversion and Baptism of the Ethiopian Eunuch".

AT THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

A large audience heard Dr. J. W. Day, of the First Presbyterian Church of Columbus, deliver a forceful sermon on "The Fatality of Indecision" at the Presbyterian church here last night. Dr. Day gave a stirring appeal, that made a deep impression. Rev. Wm. Houston, pastor of the Ohio State University, will give a special sermon to young people at the Presbyterian church this evening.

AT THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

Evangelist J. J. Tisdall who is also pastor of the Wilson Avenue Church of Columbus, Ohio, was the speaker at the Christian church last night.

SOLLARS WRITES AN OPEN LETTER

Bayou Meto, Ark., Jan. 28, 1914.
Editor Daily Herald,

Washington C. H., Ohio.

Dear Sir:—A few lines from the South may be of interest to old friends and acquaintances in the old Ohio home. This is my second trip to this country. The contrast is great between conditions now and four years ago. I speak of the progress made in that time. More land has been fenced and put in cultivation; more people are here and more of everything connected with affairs of man.

From what I can see this was a good country for the man who was satisfied to grow stock on the open range in the past, but now, with rice-growing in the lead as a money crop I can see an appreciable growth all over this section. While rice is in the lead, one can find farms here that grow corn, cotton, oats, potatoes and most anything wanted.

This Arkansas country is mostly level prairie, but there are bunches of timber in easy reach of every farm and plenty of timber in the bottom lands along the streams. As I see it, a man would have to look a long time to find a better, all-purpose country. Rice growing is in its infancy here, but it has attracted people from all parts of the middle west and other southern states, with no end yet in sight. Lands are very cheap here, when price and crop returns are compared with the more thickly settled states. One needs to

STATE BANKS ARE SHUT OUT

Can Not Act As Executors In Bill Passed By House.

MOONEY MEASURE ACCEPTED

Requires All State Officers, Boards and Institutions to Make Weekly Deposits of Receipts in State Treasury—Senate Passes Three Administration School Reform Measures. Other Assembly Proceedings.

Columbus, O., Jan. 30.—By a vote of 84 to 11, the house of representatives passed the Guthery bill permitting state banks to become members of the federal reserve system. There was eliminated from the bill its authorization to all banks in Ohio to act as executors, trustees and registrars of bonds. The net result of this action is that if the bill should be passed by the senate in the shape it leaves the house, such state banks as are not trust companies could not act as executors, but trust companies and national banks could.

Heretofore national banks have been barred from acting as executors because they were not so chartered. Under the currency act national banks may so act if not in contravention of state law, and there is no contravening law. Under state law trust companies may so act.

The bill as it went to the house gave express permission to all banks in Ohio, including national banks, so to act. Representatives of the state banks who were on the ground watching the bill got into a dispute which was reported to the house by Chairman Kennedy of the banking committee and Representative Terrell of Cleveland, who offered an amendment. The result was the elimination of the general permission and the exclusion of state banks unless they are also trust companies, from the lucrative business of handling estates and trust funds.

Mooney Measure Passed.

The Mooney bill, replica of the famous stolen bill of last winter, requiring all state officers, boards and institutions to make weekly deposits of receipts in the state treasury, was passed, without any penalty. The senate authorized the state auditor to hold up the salary of any officer who failed to comply. Some penalty will be provided if the bill goes to conference. The house put in permission to college boards to hold enough of tuition funds for refunders to students leaving college before the end of the term.

Almost without debate, the house passed the Morris bill, simplifying the system of teachers' certificates. It provides for one and three-year county and city elementary, high and special certificates, provisional four-year state elementary, state high and special certificates, life elementary, life high, life special and life common school certificates. Two, five and eight-year certificates are not to be issued, but five and eight-year certificates now held are renewable.

The Detrick bill, regulating the training of teachers, was reported to the calendar. The Ruhlman bill, for state aid to weak districts, was passed. Aid is to be extended to districts which use three-fourths of their school levy for salaries, but can not pay the minimum monthly salaries, which were fixed at $40 for primary teachers, $50 for elementary teachers and $60 for high school teachers.

King Proposal Ruled Out.

Speaker Swain ruled out as not germane the King resolution requesting the governor to permit amending out of the election laws the arbitrary powers of the secretary of state. He held it was inadmissible for the legislature to seek to instruct the executive department.

Speaker Swain announced the official plan was to finish the work of the extra session by next Wednesday night, then to recess and to reconvene one day the following week for a single closing session.

School measures were passed by the senate as follows: The Hudson bill, providing for the standardization of rural schools; the Cahill bill, providing for compulsory teaching of agriculture in rural schools and optional with city schools; the Friebohn bill, providing for the use of school property and other public property for social purposes and the levying of two-tenths of a mill for such purpose, also for the submission of school propositions enacted by the board of education to referendum.

PRICE HELD EXCESSIVE.

Columbus, O., Jan. 30.—Governor Cox and the penitentiary commission today are deliberating whether to accept or turn down the proposition to buy 1,140 acres of the John Ellsworth farm in Madison county, near London, for the building site of the new penitentiary. Madison county jurymen valued the property at $246,235, if the state decides to condemn the land. They also added $4,105 damages to the residue of the farm not taken over by the pen commission, bringing the total figure above the $250,000 appropriation allowed by the legislature last winter. Samuel Black, secretary of the pen commission, says the state considers the valuation excessive, and before accepting would probably look around further in the hope of getting some other site just as suitable at a lower price.

CORRECTS ERROR IN GRAFT PROBE

New York, Jan. 30.—James C. Stewart told District Attorney Whitman that it was James E. Gaffney, who had asked him for $150,000 while the canal board was considering Stewart's bids on barge canal contracts. He also told him that he went twice to Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany leader, to protest against the request of Gaffney. On the first visit he told Mr. Murphy about the visit of Gaffney and that he would expose the whole business unless he was called off. On his second visit to the Tammany chieftain he was denied permission to see him.

Mr. Stewart spent two hours with the district attorney. He was accompanied by his brother, Alexander Stewart, and by A. C. Vandiver, the law partner of George Gordon Battle and Senator James A. O'Gorman. Mr. Stewart told the district attorney that he had been in error when he said he did not know James E. Gaffney and that he would go before the grand jury and correct the error.

MINER RETAINS SIGHT AND JOB

State Also Benefits by Activities of Blind Commission.

The work of the Ohio Commission for the Blind is not confined to saving the eyesight of children, by any means. Here is a case in point to show that the work is carried on without respect to age or condition:

In a humble home on a hillside in a mining district of the great Hocking Valley coal field, where the leading medical authority is a peasant midwife, an old man was reluctantly giving up his lifelong work in the mines because he could no longer see to avoid coal pits.

He couldn't recall just how long his eyesight had been failing, but he said "It was long ago, and came slowly." The word cataract was a new one to him. He had never heard of such a thing, but because he knew other old men who had lost their vision in their old age, he thought it was usual, as a matter of course. He counted his seeing days, and thought his lot was to spend his old days in some county poorhouse in total darkness.

One of the visiting nurses for the Ohio Commission for the Blind found this man and his lovely wife, the family of several children having long since left the home. They were trying in their simple faith to adjust themselves to the new and what seemed certain calamity.

When the nurse for the Ohio Commission for the Blind found them, she only hinted of hope, but persuaded the old gentleman to go with her to a specialist in a nearby city. The examination showed that with a certain operation the vision of the old miner could be saved. He was compelled to remain in the hospital for several weeks, as the operation—not a dangerous one—required time to heal. Now this miner is back at work with sufficient sight to enable him to work some years longer.

Motives for Attending Church

The third week of the Evangelistic Campaign is drawing to a close and that it has stirred up widely extended interest and brought fresh vigor to religious activity is freely admitted.

As the heart requires a certain amount of stimulating fluid to continue action, so the soul is dependent for spiritual uplift upon the nourishment provided.

During the past few weeks this spiritual nourishment has been provided in full measure, pressed down and running over, and has given a momentum to the higher life which will carry the spirit of the campaign far into the coming months and years.

Not alone have church members been greatly benefited; many not accustomed to church attendance have been influenced by the Christ spirit that has been the theme of discourse and song, and are acquiring the habit of church going that cannot but prove helpful and uplifting.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch enters into the very heart of the subject of church attendance in answer to the question, "Why I Attend Church," and gives seven motives so beautifully expressed that they are worthy to be widely quoted:

"I go to church because I find there that peace which De Quincy described as a resting from human labors, a Sabbath of repose, a respite granted from the secret burdens of the heart, as if I stood at a distance and aloof from the uproar of life; as if the tumult and fever of strife were suspended; as if there brooded over me a dovelike and halcyon calm.

"I go to church because I love the music that I hear there, the mighty roll of the great organ, mingled with the marvelous symphonies of that divine stringed instrument, the human voice, untwisting all the chains that tie the hidden soul of harmony.

"I go to church because 'the way is dark and I am far from home,' and because the church is the polar star to light my pathway in the rayless night.

"I go to church because the church ministers not only to spiritual, but also to the material needs of life and because it is there that the charities that sooth and heal and bless are scattered at the feet of man like flowers.

"I go to church because in that atmosphere vice and crime wither and die.

"I go to church because I hear the teachings of the philosophy of Jesus, the incomparable man; and if you say His teaching is philosophy and not religion and that He was a man and not a god, then the philosophy of that man has redeemed the world from savagery.

"I go to church because there I find consolation and hope; because I see there the dawn and not the sunset, and it is better for man, if the hope is baseless and the vision but an elusive phantom, to cherish a dream so glorious and beautiful than to be weighted down and crushed with the quarried mountains of the world without hope and without God."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Poetry For Today

IF IT COULD BE TRUE.

"If every wish were granted,
If every hope came true,
If every seed we planted
A lovely blossom grew,
If every day was sunny
And every one were wise,
There'd be no sweet in honey
There'd be no joy to prize.

"If we knew that tomorrow
Would be just today,
With not one touch of sorrow,
No care to spoil our play,
No doubt and no misgiving,
No heartaches and no fears,
Then vain were all our living
We'd crave the joys of tears

"We'd sigh for sacred sorrow
We'd long to feel the rain,
And we should yearn to borrow
The blessedness of pain,
For more than all the pleasure
That came and quickly fled
Adown the years we treasure
The tears that we have shed."

CLAIMS OFFICIALS ARE NOT DRINKERS

Indianapolis, Ind. Jan. 30.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, defended that organization and its executive council in a speech before the convention of the United Mine Workers of America against charges made by Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners; Duncan McDonald of Illinois and others in the convention.

Mr. Moyer had charged that if the copper strike in Michigan should be lost it would be due to the inactivity of the executive board of the American Federation of Labor.

Mr. Gompers declared it would be impossible to levy an assessment for the copper mine strikers of Michigan and denied that the organization is "reactionary, fossilized, worm-eaten and dead," and that the executive council is made up of "booze fighters."

TRACTION SOLD

Columbus, O., Jan. 30.—The Columbus, Urbana & Western Traction railway property was sold by Emory W. Lattanner, state superintendent of banks, to J. T. Adams and G. W. Meeker of Columbus for $38,000. The sum of $1,000 cash was paid following the confirmation of the sale by Judge Kinkead, and $37,000 is to be paid by Feb. 14. Mr. Adams and Mr. Meeker represent local capital, it is said.

DYNAMITER GUILTY

New York, Jan. 30.—Sylvestro, the Sicilian, was convicted in four minutes of attempting to dynamite a tenement house occupied by 25 families. He will be sentenced to imprisonment for three and a half to seven years, but a bill will be introduced in the legislature next Monday making such crimes punishable by 40 years' imprisonment. The brevity of the jury's deliberations broke all records for important criminal trials.

MOVIES ADVANCE

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 30.—A move to advance prices of moving picture shows was seen in a resolution adopted by the Ohio Motion Picture Exhibitors' league, which declared that the consensus of opinion is that two reels should be shown for 5 cents and four reels should be shown for 10 cents. M. A. Neff of this city was re-elected president, and Cleveland selected as next convention city.

Yearly Increase of Fifty Per Cent In Shipbuilding In United States

By Secretary of Commerce WILLIAM C. REDFIELD

READ somewhere recently that our shipyards are not teeming with orders for new vessels to use the canal, yet they have been and are so teeming. The report of the bureau of navigation shows that the total documented merchant shipping of the United States on June 30, 1913, comprised 27,070 vessels of 7,886,518 gross tons.

THIS IS THE LARGEST TONNAGE IN OUR HISTORY AND, EXCEPTING THE BRITISH EMPIRE, EXCEEDS THAT OF ANY OTHER TWO NATIONS COMBINED. OF THE TOTAL TONNAGE, ONE MILLION TWENTY-SEVEN THOUSAND SEVEN HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-SIX GROSS TONS WERE REGISTERED, SHOWING THE LARGEST AMERICAN TONNAGE FOR FOREIGN TRADE IN TWENTY-SEVEN YEARS.

Even more auspicious is the fact that more than half of the year's increase was in tonnage for the foreign trade. Shipbuilding, too, prospered during the fiscal year, the output of our yards reaching 346,155 gross tons, AN INCREASE OF FIFTY PER CENT over the previous twelve months. Under the Panama canal act of Aug. 24, 1912, the privilege of American registry is free to foreign built ships not over five years old.

THE APPREHENSION SO LONG FELT OR SIMULATED THAT FREE REGISTRY FOR THE FOREIGN TRADE WOULD INJURE DOMESTIC INDUSTRY HAS BEEN DISPELLED, AS AFTER TEN MONTHS' EXPERIENCE UNDER FREE REGISTRY WE ARE BETTER OFF THAN BEFORE THE LAW WAS ENACTED AND FACE A FUTURE OF ABUNDANT PROMISE. THE DIFFERENCE IN THE COST OF BUILDING VESSELS FOR FOREIGN TRADE OF THE UNITED STATES AND ABROAD HAS BEEN LARGELY ELIMINATED, AND IN CONSEQUENCE WE ARE A LONG STEP NEARER A NORMAL SHARE IN THE WORLD'S OCEAN CARRYING TRADE.

PITNER HAS ANOTHER DREAM NOW SAYS NAME IS SEIFERT

H. Petham, alias H. Pittmand, alias Harry Pitner, the "man of mystery", is now confined in the county jail at Xenia, where he says his name is William H. Seifert, and that his home is in Columbus. He further says he has a brother, an undertaker, who resides in Columbus.

The man, following his hearing before the mayor of Jamestown, was bound over to the probate court of Greene county, and later escorted to the county jail.

He now states that he owns a fourth interest in a 140 acres farm in Madison county, and that his present trouble is the result of a protracted spree, and he is very anxious to get out of jail and also to square himself for the crime committed.

He has talked freely since his incarceration in the Greene county jail, but his story is entirely different from that told while imprisoned in the local jail.

His case is now attracting quite a little attention in Greene county. So far he has given four different names, and has told stories that vary greatly.

He still has a great many persons "guessing" as to who he is and what he is, and has proven himself the possessor of a very vivid imagination.

YEGGS TRY TO CRACK SAFE AT WONDER PLANT

Sometime during the night—supposedly before the 10:50 o'clock train went to Columbus, yeggs tried to force the big safe in the office of the Wonder Manufacturing Company's plant in the northern part of the city, but were either frightened away or voluntarily gave up the attempt.

The would-be robbers entered the plant by forcing a rear window, and then forcing doors and windows in the various rooms until they reached the office, where they cut through the door and unfastened the night-lock, after which they attacked the safe with a sledge hammer, but did not seriously damage it.

A quantity of liquid, supposed to be nitro-glycerine, had been dropped on the floor at the bottom of the safe door, and there was evidence that an effort had been made to pour the liquid in the small aperture between the door and side of the safe, but it was apparent that no attempt had been made to explode the nitro-glycerine.

Chief Moore examined the premises very closely, Friday morning, and made inquiry in the neighborhood. One woman stated that two strange men had been hanging about the place Thursday evening, and that one of them had asked her what time the next train left for Columbus.

The work was evidently not that of local talent, as the safe has not been in use for some time, other than to hold the company's books, and there was not a dollar in it.

BOUQUET HANDED TO HON. C. A. REID

Words of Praise Given in Unique Manner by Cleveland Newspaper Which "Accuses" Fayette's Representative of Being Shrewdest Member of Legislature.

Fayette county's brilliant representative, Hon. C. A. Reid is characterized by the Cleveland News of Thursday, as ringmaster and star performer of the State Legislature, in a spicy little write-up, accompanied by an excellent picture of Mr. Reid. The news says:

"This will introduce you to the ringmaster of the Ohio Legislative circus, now putting on an indoor performance in the state house, Representative Chas. A. Reid, of Washington C. H.

When Reid isn't up here making laws, he's down in Fayette county defending those who break them. He stands mighty high in his profession, but he missed his calling. He ought to have joined a circus.

The Republican floor leader's position in the House corresponds to that of the man with the high hat in the ring who cracks his whip and snaps his fingers in giving orders to performers on the sawdust trail.

Reid makes the Democrats jump through his hoop every day. Both his political friends and enemies acknowledge that he is about the shrewdest man in the legislature, and he's always on the job to see that Speaker Swain hews to the line on parliamentary law. Reid served as prosecutor of his own county and this is his second term in the House."

MIDNIGHT BLAZE ON RAWLINGS STREET

At midnight Thursday night the fire department was summoned to an old frame house on East Rawlings street, east of Delaware street, occupied by Richard Halthcock.

The house was doomed before the department arrived, and the work of preventing the flames from spreading was taken up by the firemen, with the result that no further damage resulted than the small house.

The flames from the burning building lighted the heavens to such an extent that many persons believed a much larger building was on fire.

How the fire started is not known.

LIBRARY BOARD ELECTS NEW LIBRARIAN

The Board of Trustees of the Public Library held a called meeting Thursday night, to elect a librarian to succeed Miss Bess Kerr, whose resignation takes effect Saturday, February the 7th.

Miss Elizabeth Johnson, the assistant librarian, was unanimously elected to the position. Miss Johnson is an exceptionally bright young woman, who has shown decided ability in the work of the library and it is expected will fill the position acceptably. She has had three years' experience as assistant librarian.

The board has not yet selected an assistant librarian, but expects to do so in the near future.

The new members of the board, Messrs. H. D. Chaffin and Earl Barnett, were sworn in, as was also Miss Gertrude Gardner, re-appointed for a term of four years.

INJURED WOMAN OUT ONCE MORE

After several days in the Fayette Hospital, Mrs. Eliza Cockerill, who, in company with Mr. J. E. Todhunter nearly met death at the C. H. & D. crossing on South Fayette street last Saturday afternoon, left the hospital Thursday and will remain with her daughter, Mrs. John McFadden, in this city for several days before returning to her home near New Martinsburg.

The painful wounds received by Mrs. Cockerill are healing rapidly. Mr. Todhunter has almost fully recovered from the wounds he received.

PIONEER RESIDENT ANSWERS SUMMONS

Mrs. Hanna Kirkpatrick Mark one of the few remaining pioneers of Fayette county, died Friday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. A. Slagle at the advanced age of 88 years.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 Sunday afternoon, at the Mt. Carmel M. E. church, of which she was a faithful member for over 70 years. Interment will be made in the Mark cemetery.

YOUNG MAN CAUGHT WITH THE GOODS

Willie Willett, of Greenfield, was recently arrested upon a charge of bootlegging, having sold to a man named Wilson, and who resides at New Martinsburg, a quantity of whiskey.

Marshal Willis, of Greenfield, saw the transaction and immediately arrested Willett. The New Martinsburg man then demanded the return of his money, and Willett gave it to him at once, clearly proving his guilt of the charge.

The young man drew $50 and the costs for selling booze to Wilson.

BISHOP WALDEN DIES IN FLORIDA

Bishop John M. Walden, of Cincinnati, who has been critically ill at Daytona, Fla., died Wednesday night, January 21st. He had reached the advanced age of 83 years and was one of the oldest active bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Bishop Walden had made Episcopal visits to every state and to the Methodist missions of Europe, Asia, South America and Mexico.

At one time, shortly after leaving college, Bishop Walden was a skeptic in religious matters, but was later converted to the Christian religion in Cincinnati.

PROMISSORY NOTE IS BASIS OF SUIT

DENY MYSTERY IN PRELATE'S DEATH

Vatican Says Cardinal's Body Will Not Be Exhumed.

JEWEL CASE RECOVERED.

Unofficial Investigation Started by Police to Discover Why Physician's Warning of Serious Illness of Cardinal Was Not Heeded by His Personal Servant.

Rome.—Rumors that the authorities had ordered the exhumation of the body of Cardinal Rampolla on the discovery of suspicious circumstances regarding his last illness were set at rest by the emphatic declaration of the Vatican that nothing of the kind was thought of and the assertion of the police that an exhumation was unlikely unless suspicions of poisoning were corroborated by sufficient evidence.

The rumor was started by the newspaper Messagero, which announced that the search for the cardinal's last will, which is believed to have been stolen, had revealed that his death was not due to natural causes. The cardinal's valet added to the mystery by saying that the physician who was called on the morning of Dec. 17, the day on which Cardinal Rampolla died, warned him seven hours before his death of the serious nature of the illness, but the valet neglected to inform the Vatican or the family of the cardinal.

This physician, who was called again later, but did not arrive before the death of the cardinal, certified that death was due to natural causes and that an autopsy was unnecessary. The organs of the body were examined before it was embalmed. The Vatican insists that the cause of death has been established beyond all doubt.

An unofficial investigation was started by the police to discover why the physician's warning was not heeded by the servant of the cardinal.

Meanwhile a box found in the cardinal's apartments and which was supposed to be the ebony box in which his last will was placed has been identified as a jewel case. Princess Altieri, wife of the Duke of Campobello, son of a sister of the late cardinal, said she would start no proceedings in the matter until the duke's mother, who she insists, was not on speaking terms with Cardinal Rampolla, attempts to enter into possession of his estate, which is valued at $100,000.

CARDINAL RAMPOLLA.

Cardinal Rampolla's birth certificate and other documents necessary to probate the will of 1889, in which the Duke of Campobello, who was later disinherited by his uncle, and the cardinal's sister are beneficiaries, have been produced in court. Princess Altieri contends that Cardinal Rampolla told her on several occasions that in his later will he had provided for her two children, of whom she has been the legal guardian since her separation from the Duke of Campobello on account of the dissolute habits of the latter.

ABSTRACT OF REAL PROPERTY READY

Mammoth Task Just Finished by Auditor Henkle Places Fayette Among Foremost Counties in State to Compile Abstract for New District Assessor—Realty Valuation Totals $28,486,750.

Auditor Henkle has just finished 8 weeks of strenuous work in the preparation of an abstract of all the realty in Washington and Fayette counties, to be turned over to District Assessor J. C. Dunn.

The abstract, which shows the valuation of the realty of the county, with the name of owner, amount of each of the 9000 or more pieces of realty, was compiled as required by the new statutes so that it would be ready for the district assessor by the first Monday in February, and Mr. Henkle is one of the few county auditors in the state who has finished the big task, and as a result of his work, District Assessor Dunn has been able to make marked progress in the affairs of his office, so that Fayette county is in the front rank with the other counties where the work of both officials is advanced.

In compiling the abstract it was necessary to search the records covering a period of four years, going through 3800 transfers, and bringing the abstract up to date in detail.

The abstract shows Fayette county realty has a valuation of $28,486,750, and if some $9,500,000 in personal property is added to the realty value, the total for Fayette is $37,986,750, which represents the total tax duplicate of the county.

The following abstract shows the realty valuation by districts:

HOW THE HOG CHOLERA IS BEING ELIMINATED

United States Department of Agriculture Contributes Interesting Article on the Success of War Being Waged Against Swine Plague in Various States of the Union. Methods Used Similar to Those Now Being Employed in This County.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture, during the past year, has been conducting campaigns in Indiana, Missouri, Iowa and Nebraska to control the contagious disease of hogs known as "hog cholera" by means of anti-hog-cholera serum and farm quarantines. In one county (Pettis Co., Missouri), where there was a loss of 18 per cent in 1911 and 25.6 per cent in 1912 of all hogs raised, there was only a loss of 14.7 per cent up to November 1913. This decrease was due to use of serum, which, although not used there by the Department's agents until August, 1913, materially reduced the loss. About 10,000 hogs were raised during the past year and of the 10,000 that died of the hog cholera only about 1000 were lost after active use of serum and quarantine measures were inaugurated.

Of hogs actually sick when treated, the Department's inspectors lost but 25 per cent during the past summer. Of well hogs in diseased herds, 2.8 per cent died after being treated and of hogs in exposed herds less than 1 per cent died after being inoculated with the serum. In an infected herd there is always a certain proportion of hogs that are well.

The object of the Department has been to endeavor to control the disease and if possible, to eliminate it from the country. To secure this end the best efforts of the farmer himself are necessary. The campaign against this devastating sickness during 1913 was planned in the territory selected along three lines.

1. The education and organization of the farmers in the districts selected, to be carried out primarily by the State College.
2. The enforcement of sanitation and restrictive regulations by the state veterinarian.
3. Active supervision by the Bureau of Animal Industry of the Department and the inoculation of diseased herds and exposed herds with the anti-hog-cholera serum.

When an outbreak of hog cholera was reported the Department's inspector went to that outbreak and saved all the hogs he could by treatment with serum. As the disease is very easily transmitted, he then protected all herds in the immediate vicinity by inoculation. The idea was to form a zone of immune animals around the infected center.

Hog cholera is caused by a germ that exists in the blood. It is an organism apparently so small that the most powerful microscopes do not show it. However, it is easy to demonstrate its presence by inoculating a small part of the blood from a sick hog into a well one, which produces the hog cholera.

Hog cholera is a disease which seems to be stopped to a degree by the frosts of winter, although frost cannot be said to stop a case after it has taken hold of its victim. However, it seems to prevent the rapid spread of the disease. The result is that in a spring time the affection as a rule at the lowest ebb but increases rapidly from that time until fall.

Hog cholera does not seem to affect any particular breed of hogs more than another, and while generally the careless farmer is more apt to have the disease among his hogs than the careful one, the disease sometimes occurs where the conditions are sanitary. It is hoped that the work may be extended gradually until the disease is completely controlled or eliminated. The fact that hog cholera is carried not only by the hogs themselves, but by birds, dogs, streams and even on the feet of men going from one farm to another shows how necessary it is that the campaign be thorough and that farmers exert their best efforts to assist in the work.

QUO VADIS

"Quo Vadis," George Kleine's magnificent production of the masterly Cines photo drama which crowded the Astor Theater in New York City and broke records at Philadelphia, Chicago and Boston continues to do so in all other cities where it is being presented. It is a glowing tribute to the finest achievement the world has yet known in the field of photo drama and serves to illustrate the marvelous hold this form of entertainment has on the public and the enormous possibilities for future development.

That tremendous soul of magnetism with which the brilliant Sienkiewicz invested his novel is retained in the photo drama reproduction and the audience is almost as much swayed by the camera effect as by the words of the novelist. The arrangement of the picture is perfect, relating the story in sequential detail, and by the use of the slightest imagination, the auditor has no difficulty in following and understanding it. The pursuit of Lygia by the young patrician Vinitius is so thoroughly human it has a strong appeal to everybody and when his earthly passion is glorified through his conversion, the young man has everybody's sympathy in his trials. It is the immense human interest of the photo drama that has as much as anything to do with its success. The spectacular features are wonderful, the burning of Rome, the pageantry of the court of Nero, the games in the Arena and the devouring of the Christians by the lions all have their thrills, but to young and old it is the big love story that lingers longest in the memory.

Mr. George Kleine's production of "Quo Vadis" will be the attraction at the Palace theater for two days commencing February 5 with matinees each day.

SAGE PREDICTS END OF WARFARE

New York, Jan. 30.—The annual meeting of the New York Peace society, held at Hotel Astor, heard a new note of optimism for universal peace from Andrew Carnegie, its president, and the Rev. Father Michael Chune of Syracuse, who made an address on "The Passing of War."

"The world is growing greater," said Mr. Carnegie. "There is not a ruler of civilized nations on the earth today who will not say that the greatest crime on earth is man killing his fellow man. The enormous amount of money lost through war you all know. These great expenditures for arms can not last. I expect to see the practical end of war."

Mr. Carnegie was re-elected president of the society.

REBELS ISSUE A JAG OF "MONEY"

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 30.—Five million pesos in currency will be issued by the Constitutionalist government. The money will be circulated wherever Constitutionlists are in control. All previous issues of rebel currency will be called in.

Pancho Villa is in bed in Juarez from the effect of an operation performed by an El Paso physician. Referring to the coming attack on Torreon, he said: "We will probably have a harder fight than we have yet had, but it will end as have the others, in victory for the Constitutionalist army. No, I do not know what direction the campaign will take after the fall of Torreon. There is a possibility that the capture of Torreon will end the civil war, for popular opinion may thrust Huerta from Mexico City and the presidential chair he claims to occupy."

WICKERSHAM SEES DEADLY ESPIONAGE

New York, Jan. 30.—George W. Wickersham, ex-attorney general, attacks the trade commission bill, now before the senate committee on interstate commerce. He says that it is not founded on the constitution. President Wilson has said that the purpose of the trade commission is to "smell around all the time in search of rats." Mr. Wickersham asserts that the bill would establish an unprecedented system of espionage upon all corporate business.

ITALIAN BUNKOED

Youngstown, O., Jan. 30.—Tony Tifalco and Valto Trallo, Italians, were arrested here charged with obtaining $1,000 from Tony Marino of Warren. Marino says he was met by four men in Warren, one of whom was seeking an Italian priest to give him $3,500 for missions. Marino was asked to carry the money to the priest, and put up $1,000 of his own, drawn from a bank, as security. The $3,500 was placed supposedly in a box, which was given to Marino. When he opened it later there were only newspapers in it.

AWOKE TO LOSS

With the discontinuance of the Lynchburg Record, a small newspaper that had been published in that village for several years, the citizens woke up to the realization that a newspaper is an absolute necessity in a community and they have been making effort to secure another paper. An experienced man in the business, R. E. Stroup, formerly editor of the South Solon Advance, has been secured and it is expected that a newspaper will make its appearance within a few weeks.

FAVORS PRESENT PROGRAM

Sharp Discussion of the Japanese Immigration Problem Likely To Be Precipitated in the House When the Immigration Bills Are Reported. Western Representatives Lining Up For the Raker Bill.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Relations between the United States and Japan were brought into prominence by further developments in Washington. These developments served to strengthen the conviction that the administration regards the present state of Japanese relations as delicate.

Discussions at the White House indicated that the United States will continue to stand firm on its original conditions in regard to the California alien land law controversy, and is unlikely to make any material concessions to Japan in the discussion now in progress looking toward some sort of an adjustment of that dispute.

On the other hand, events in the house committee on immigration showed that the administration is determined that there shall be no legislation upsetting the present arrangement with Japan for the restricting of Japanese immigration.

It was disclosed that the administration leaders in congress will oppose the demands of western members for a drastic law excluding Japanese laborers, and will support instead the Burnett measure, which leaves undisturbed the present arrangement. Ambassador Chinda already had informed the state department that his government would greatly regret any other course.

There is every indication that there will be precipitated in the house a sharp discussion of the Japanese relations in general and Japanese immigration in particular, which is likely to prove embarrassing to the administration. The Pacific coast representatives, particularly the Californians, both Republicans and Democrats, intend to demand drastic legislation, such as is provided in the bill drawn by Representative Raker. These members say they believe they will be successful in the fight they intend to make for a bill that will meet with the approval of the people on the Pacific slope.

RICH MAN MISSING AND FATE PUZZLING

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 30.—Was F. Lewis Clark, Spokane multi-millionaire, who so mysteriously disappeared from Santa Barbara on the night of Jan 17 murdered or is he being held captive in Los Angeles by a gang of blackmailers? This is the question that is puzzling both local and federal authorities throughout the country. His wife and relatives believe he is being held captive for ransom.

A letter has been received by local police purporting to have come from a gang of blackmailers, and demanding a ransom of $75,000 for the return of the millionaire. Federal authorities have begun an investigation in an effort to trace the identity of the local police.

NAIL IN SKULL

Lima, O., Jan. 30.—Clement Strawser, 5, fell from the front porch of his home into a puddle of water on the ground four feet below. He died shortly afterward at a hospital. Investigation disclosed that a nail in a piece of board at the bottom of the puddle had pierced his skull.

PRES'T WILSON USES CABLE

Washington, Jan. 30.—President Wilson sent the following cablegram to Emperor William at Berlin: "I have been gratified to receive your majesty's courteous message of greetings sent by means of the new transatlantic radio station. I congratulate your majesty on this additional tie of closer communication between the United States and Germany."

The cablegram was in response to a radiogram received from Emperor William. It was impossible to send the reply by wireless because the sending station to the German station on this side of the Atlantic is still incomplete.

CREATE RURAL CREDIT BANKS

Bill For Establishment of Farm Land Banks Launched.

BACKED BY ADMINISTRATION

Proposed Institutions Prohibited Under the Measure From Engaging in a General Banking Business—Lending Power Restricted to Fifteen Times the Capital and Surplus of the Bank.

Washington, Jan. 30. — There was introduced in congress a bill providing for the establishment of a national farm land bank system. This measure is tentatively the administration bill for the establishment of a national rural credit system. It represents the result of the labors of a United States commission appointed by President Wilson last April to investigate the rural credit system in European countries and report thereon.

The bill in the form introduced has not the unqualified indorsement of the house banking and currency committee. It represents in the main the views of the committee, but so far as the general principles expressed are concerned it has the approbation of President Wilson.

President Wilson has been positive upon one point in regard to a rural credit system for the United States. He is opposed to any scheme by which the United States government should become directly the creditor of the farmer. This view is in entire accord with the views of the majority members of the house committee on banking and currency.

The bill as introduced provides for the creation, operation and supervision of a national farm land bank system through which the farm land banks to be established under the terms of the act or to be created through the federalization of existing state farm mortgage concerns and farmers' banks shall become the new rural credit system of the United States.

Banks under the new law are prohibited from engaging in general banking business. They may not loan on the stock or bonds of fellow bankers in the system. Their loaning power is restricted to 15 times their own capital and surplus.

LITTLE STORIES ABOUT OHIO

By CHARLES E. CHIDESTER

MAN AND HER LAST BULLET SAVES THREE LIVES.

The marksmanship of a woman with her last charge of powder and shot in 1799 saved herself and three children from starvation in Ashtabula county.

Finding the supply of provisions exhausted, Joel Thorp, started from Millford now stands for the latest settlement in Pennsylvania, miles away, leaving his wife, Sarah, his eight year old son, and his smaller children at home in the wilderness.

Twenty-four hours after his departure the little began to sink its fangs into the craving in any other manner, the mother dug roots and made a thick form of soup. The youngsters gnawed for food promising to be satisfied with the smallest possible morsel.

This had continued a day when Basil suddenly remembered having seen kernels of corn between logs of the cabin. For two hours he hunted in the desperation of famine. The mother emptied the straw out of a tick and with her children picked over the contents to find a few grains of wheat. These she boiled and gave to the youngsters.

When three days had passed and all sources of food were exhausted, Mrs. Thorp chanced to see flying by the door a wild turkey. Snatching up her husband's rifle, she proceeded to load it to find that but one charge of powder and one bullet remained. Realizing the extremity of the situation and that missing aim meant death, she carefully cleaned and loaded the weapon.

Noiselessly creeping on hands and knees to near where the fowl was eating, she took aim, but in her excitement accidentally frightened it and it flew off a short distance. Waiting until it was again wallowing in the dust, she stole up on it and hiding behind a log, drew careful aim.

The hammer fell, the pan flashed, the gun roared. Peering through the smoke Mrs. Thorpe saw the feet of the bird kicking in the air, singling with joy, she sprang forward and caught up the bird. It meant life and the silencing of those pitiful wails for food that at the very moment issued from the cabin.

No Conqueror ever took home the spoils of war any more proudly than did Mrs. Thorp the turkey. The carcass was cut into equal portions sufficient to feed the family three days. Just as the last ration was being consumed Thorp returned with supplies.

INTERESTING FIGURES ARE GIVEN BY TIMBER DEALERS

Appraisal of Timber on Lands
Condemned For Penitentiary Site
Introduced in Court Proceedings
This Week—Frank Flee of This City Estimates Total Amount of Timber at 2,245,400 Feet.

The evidence submitted in the condemnation proceedings in the case of Ohio against John Ellsworth wherein the value of the new penitentiary site is being established in Madison county courts, is attracting statewide attention.

Among the well known timber dealers who assisted in the appraisal of the timber on the lands, was Mr. Frank Flee, of this city, and his estimate was 2,245,400 feet of timber, valued at $33,185.10.

The testimony given by Mr. Flee and others is included in the following excerpts from the Madison County Democrat's report of the proceedings:

Frank Flee, Manufacturer.
Mr. Flee, Washington C. H. manufacturer of hardwood lumber, has been in the business twenty years. Employed five days at the beginning of the year in estimating the timber on the Ellsworth land. He went to each tree and estimated its number of feet.

He reports that of burr oak there are 1,126,100 feet; white oak 857,000 feet; red oak, 34,000; walnut, 16,800; ash, 6,300; hickory, 28,700; elm, 30,000; cherry, 2,000 and also small timber, making a grand total of 2,245,400 feet of the value of $33,185.10 as it stands on the stump.

There is sufficient timber to justify putting in a saw mill, but its condition is very common; worms prevent its being used for finishing purposes.

J. W. Calland, Forester.
Mr. Calland is assistant forester at the State Experiment Station at Wooster, Ohio, and took the forestry course at the O. S. U. Made an estimate of the timber on the Ellsworth land. As the burr oak and white oak predominated, witness placed all the trees in these two classes for estimating purposes with the following result: The burr oak class, 1,063,000 feet; the white oak class, 898,000 feet, or a total of 1,961,000 feet.

Wm. Buller, Timber Buyer.
Mr. Buller estimates and buys timber for the Dodson Lumber Co., of Columbus; got his experience in cutting timber; has been at it for 28 years.

Commencing January 1, 1914, he put in 4 1/2 days estimating the timber, by the tree on the 1448.50 acres of the Ellsworth farm. He estimates a total of 2,006,100 feet, including 10,000 feet of small timber, worth $28,303.65. Much of the timber is defective, being hollow at the stump and top.

A. E. Taylor, Forester.
Mr. Taylor took a four-year forestry course at the O. S. U. and is assistant forester at the Wooster Experiment Station. He estimates the burr oak class of trees on the Ellsworth land at 946,000 feet, and the white oak class at 889,000 feet, or a total of 1,835,000 feet. This includes all kinds of trees on the place. Mr. Taylor has been in the employ of the government, in his capacity of forester, in California, and was engaged on the Ellsworth tract for four days. He estimated each tree separately.

Peter Dorn, Banker, Says:
Peter Dorn, president of the Sedalia Bank, has lived in Madison county for 31 years, and has divided his 1022 acres of land among his children. He testifies that the Ellsworth land as a whole, including the timber, is worth $225 per acre. Separated from the balance, the land south of the railroad is worth $50 per acre less than that amount.

PEGOU MAY TRY AN OCEAN FLIGHT

Topsy Turvy Aviator Believes Feat Can Be Accomplished.

WANTS GOOD NAVAL PATROL

Frenchman Who Has Amazed World by His Daring Is Modest Young Fellow—"Some Day You Will Die," His Retort to Suggestion of Peril—Wants to Be First to Fly Across Ocean.

Paris.—Adolphe Pegoud, the topsy-turvy aviator, intends, if he manages to keep alive, to give exhibitions of upside down flying in New York at the conclusion of his present tour.

Before going to Vienna M. Pegoud gave an interview in which he not only stated his purpose of going to America, but also expressed his willingness to attempt a flight across the Atlantic, provided a proper naval patrol was guaranteed.

M. Pegoud is small and dapper, with brilliant eyes, scintillating good humor. He cultivates a dark mustache, a la kaiser. He is a great joker, even on the subject of his own thrilling performances. While he cannot be called a man without nerves, he undoubtedly does not know the meaning of danger. His attitude concerning his upside-down feats is not stagey, nor that of an acrobat seeking adulation. He said at the beginning of the interview:

"I am very proud to be the first man to accomplish this feat, but other men can do it as easily as I. After I got the idea I worked out the possibilities on paper and studied the entire problem thoroughly. I kept at Bleriot to allow me to attempt it merely to prove the possibility of the safety of his make of aeroplane.

"You ask whether I would attempt a transatlantic flight. I have not studied the question sufficiently to make a complete answer concerning the possibility of success, but I think that such a flight will be accomplished in the near future. Certainly it will be the greatest feat in aviation. I hope to be among the first to attempt it, even though I do not succeed.

"Persons talk about the foolhardiness of my upside down flights. If I thought them foolhardy I would not do them. That is why I say I would attempt a transatlantic flight now only with a guarantee of proper naval patrol, because I am sane enough to desire to try it again if I fail the first time.

"From a superficial study of the situation I believe that the flight might now be attempted across the shortest route, from the west coast of Ireland to Newfoundland.

"A waterplane of sufficient size, an extraordinarily powerful motor and wireless equipment could today negotiate a large part of the trip without descending for gasoline. Given fair weather the craft could rest on the waves until help arrived. With the wireless it could keep its whereabouts known. It would be necessary to fly much faster than the fastest petrol boats.

"As transatlantic liners would probably be expensive and impracticable, I believe that torpedo boats and destroyers would be the best craft obtainable. If any government wished to test the possibility sufficiently to have a convoy of such craft, starting a couple of days before the flight and spreading themselves across the ocean, I think it would not be long before the greatest prize of the air would be won."

RID OF EMBEDDED NEEDLE.

After Two Years in Youth's Foot It Comes Out Unaided.

Lucy, La.—Two years ago while walking about the house H. Y. Smyth, twenty years old, ran a needle into his right foot.

The doctors were unable to find it, and the pain ceased. The other day while at work on the river front he felt a sharp sting on the calf of his right leg.

On investigation he found the needle protruding and was easily able to withdraw it.

Made Stronger to Wear Longer

Made extra strong, the Cream City Wash Boiler insures extra long wear. In fact it's guaranteed to out-last two boilers of the common kind.

Has swaged sides, wired rims, big hooked handles that make it easier to lift and empty and prevent pinching or burning the hands. Is guaranteed to last longer and give better service. Come in and see these three styles.

Over 3,000 Candy Makers

Are turning out Ohio candy, in one hundred and fourteen candy factories of the state. And candy making is by no means a leading industry of Ohio. Do you know what the biggest factories of the state ARE making, and how many men it takes to keep them going? How many proprietors, how many clerks, and how many wage earners? It is interesting to read about, and it might be pretty useful, too. You must do business, directly or indirectly, with some of those factories, and their industry concerns you.

Our OHIO ALMANAC, just issued for 1914, tells you all about the manufacturing business of Ohio, the business of farming, the schools, the religious organizations, the population, the platforms of the various political parties, the officials of the state and the counties, and about 100,000 other interesting facts about your state. Useful bits of information they are, too, that would cost you hundreds of dollars in time and cash to find out for yourself if we had not gathered it all together for you.

And we sell it to you for 25c at our office, or 30c by mail, postpaid.
